Gun Duel Rocks Madrid, Shells Raking Streets

Government Artillery Answers Insurgents' Violent Bombardment of Central Part of City and Infantry Makes Gain in One Suburb; Reprisals For Merciless Shelling May Be Made By Loyalists Elsewhere

Francoists 'Hyenas' Says General Miaja

Associated Press
Madrid, April 22.—Thunderous government artillery assault against the gun replacements from which insurgents have punished Madrid with death and destruction for eleven days drowned out the insurgent cannonade today and enabled government ground troops to fight their way into the insurgent suburb of Usera.

Fighting began at dawn along the suburban battlefield while Gen. Francisco Franco's gunners, adapting anti-aircraft pieces to siege work, rained shells into the heart of the city.

Meanwhile, rallying against a surprise insurgent attack that swarmed over their first line trenches, government defenders in the Usera suburb recaptured lost ground and swept on to bend back the previous insurgent front line.

Then they established themselves in the insurgents' old positions. Grenade throwers led the government attack.

RECORD IS SET
The insurgent bombardment that lulled with the government's own cannonade was one unmatched in the experience of any other capital during twentieth century warfare.

At least twenty-five shells in the early morning onslaught were blasted into the populous districts along the Gran Via and connecting streets.

They wrought their havoc as the bodies of more than thirty-two persons killed in yesterday's attack were being carted to cemeteries.

The spring sky, pitiless in its brightness, afforded the insurgent gunners splendid visibility.

Men, rushing to shelter from the streets, said they had seen men and women hurriedly carried to emergency hospitals by stretcher squads or hastily commandeered automobiles.

STOICISM BROKEN
The newspaper A.B.C. admitted the fatality of Madridenos, besieged for 8½ months, was cracked.

"The people of Madrid are losing their stoicism in the face of this repeated cruelty and senseless brutality," said the paper. "They will not be criticized if, some day, they resort to violence by way of reprisals. Nor can clemency be asked when the time comes—and it is not far off—to do justice to these traitors and assassins of the people, those who help in this brainless villainy."

Radio Studio Is Cleared of Bees

Boston, April 22.—Radio station WEEI recovered its studio today from a swarm of 30,000 bees let loose last night during an anti-aircraft broadcast—but not until one-fifth of their number had died beneath brooms or were swallowed up in a vacuum cleaner.

Brought to the studio to drone for an air audience while John Van de Poel of the Massachusetts department of agriculture was interviewed on bee keeping, the swarm escaped when Van de Poel dropped one of the two hives.

SHORE GUNS TO AID FOOD SHIPS

Basques Fire at Insurgent Warcraft; Bilbao Awaits British Cargo

Associated Press
St. Jean de Luz, Franco-Spanish border, April 22.—British food ships, under the high sea guard of British men-of-war, determined today to smash the Spanish insurgent blockade of Bilbao and provision the near-starving Basque capital.

While three of the five freighters, driven to cover by attacks from insurgent vessels, put up steam for the attempt to run the blockade, government shore batteries along the Bay of Biscay coast started booming at dawn in the direction of insurgent warships.

OWNERS' INSTRUCTIONS
The food-laden British vessels were reported authorized by their owners to run the gauntlet despite a warning from the British government, and were promised an escort of British warships to the three-mile limit.

At that point, the government ships ranged the Basque coast, just off Bilbao, ready to swoop down on any ships defying their blockade to starve Bilbao into submission to the slowly encircling land forces of General Emilio Mola. Basque quarters said, however, the fire of land batteries had forced them to keep ten miles offshore.

Profits Tax Faces Slight Amendment

But British Commons Is Expected to Accept Principle of Chamberlain's Proposal For Levy to Provide Funds For Defence

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, April 22.—Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty in the last Labour government, declared in the House of Commons during the budget debate this afternoon that when Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain ceased to be Chancellor of the Exchequer he would leave behind him a balanced budget.

Mr. Chamberlain (expected to succeed Mr. Baldwin as Prime Minister after the Coronation) had piled up arrears of debt contributions to the United States, said Mr. Alexander. He was leaving to his successor arrears of £187,000,000. Mr. Alexander spoke of leading New York businessmen as saying to him that they resented the cold, callous way in which the United States debt question had been treated.

DEBT INCREASE
Mr. Chamberlain should have been showing reductions of hundreds of millions in the national debt. Instead, at the end of his term of office, there was a deadweight of debt greater than when he became Chancellor. If the defence loan were included there was the prospect of a £1,000,000,000 budget next year.

"Instead of being frugal," the Chancellor has been using the ordinary reserves of peace and now has nothing to fall back on to meet his preparations for war."

AMENDMENTS FORESEEN
The outcome of the budget debate was expected today to be that the new tax on business profits would be amended in detail but accepted in principle by the government's over-

Over 250 Coming For Garden Week

Writers and Lecturers of Pacific Coast Will Be Among Visitors For First Event on Jubilee Calendar

Spring Garden Week, first event on Victoria's Jubilee calendar, will open Saturday afternoon with Hatley Park, palatial home of Mrs. James Dunsmuir, thrown open to the public.

The affair which is sponsored by the Empress Hotel this year, though still being held under the auspices of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, has drawn wide attention, and over 250 outside visitors, including well-known garden authorities, writers, and lecturers are expected to attend.

The main batch of these visitors will arrive next Thursday and a special programme has been arranged for them by John Grant, F.R.S., which will include bus tours to the most beautiful gardens in the city under the guidance of hosts and hostesses.

The Spring Garden Week was started about three years ago by the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association in connection with its Spring Flower Show at the Willows and this year will again be the feature of the last two days—Friday and Saturday—of the week.

Beside the flower show, however, lectures, a Shakespearean tea, and a decorated table display will be held on various days during the week at the Empress Hotel.

CECIL HOLLY TO SPEAK
Among the garden authorities who will come to Victoria for the garden festival is Cecil Holly, well-known radio commentator, and editor of Northwest Gardens. Mr. Holly will only be able to be in Victoria on Saturday owing to the fact that he has a daily radio programme. He will make a rush trip around the city's gardens, visit the show, and speak over CECT at 12 o'clock noon when he will comment on Victoria gardens.

London Police In Chase For Boy

Associated Press
London, April 22.—London's 19,000 policemen searched today for one snub-nosed boy of fifteen who escaped from custody in a wild dash across roof tops.

The boy, his identity guarded by British law, squirmed loose from his guard yesterday at the juvenile court in Caxton Hall, climbed through a window and scrambled to the roof.

Burly policemen for hours alighted over the tiles while the boy danced lightly from one dizzy perch to another, and a good-natured crowd cheered favorites among the perspiring police.

Japan Is Now For Free Trade

Canadian Press from Havas
Tokio, April 22.—An economic mission leaving next week for the United States and Europe was instructed by Foreign Minister Naito to defend today to do everything in its power to promote a return to free trade.

Addressing a party in honor of the departing mission, Naito said free trade was a cornerstone of international collaboration. The nations of the world had in reality gained little from the system of quotas and tariffs established to protect home industries, he said.

VERIGIN TO GO BEFORE COURT

Canadian Press
Castlegar, B.C., April 22.—Peter Verigin the Younger, spiritual leader of Doukhobors in Canada, will appear in police court here Friday to face two charges—driving to the common danger and vagrancy.

Police reports claim Verigin's car recently passed another five times in four miles, and that Verigin stopped each time after he had passed.

Verigin reached Castlegar, about twenty-five miles west of Nelson, B.C., Wednesday night.

Prospects For Peace In Auto Plant Town Brighter As Premier Shares Talks

E. V. FINLAND IS CANDIDATE

Nominated in Esquimalt; Patterson Charges Misuse of Public Funds

Nominated by R. H. Pooley, K.C., who has retired from politics after twenty-five years in the Legislature, Elmer V. Finland, barrister, 948 Old Esquimalt Road, was chosen Conservative candidate in Esquimalt riding at a convention in Colwood Community Hall last night.

Mr. Finland was nominated without opposition and received the unanimous cheering acclaim of the 125 delegates in the hall. He has been active in Esquimalt Conservative circles for many years and was chairman of the nominating convention.

Dr. Frank Patterson, Conservative leader; Herbert Anascomb, slated as head of the party ticket in Victoria; R. A. Wootton, president of the B.C. Conservative Association, and Mr. Pooley were speakers.

Dr. Patterson charged Premier Pattullo with misuse of public funds in advertising the government's election manifesto over the provincial crest, in spending provincial money for advertising in 1935 and in paying public money to the Liberal organizer as assistant to the Premier in 1934.

KEEP DEBT DOWN
He pledged the Conservative Party to a policy of business administration, cutting out "useless frills" of government and "experimenting" with public funds. If elected they would halt the mounting debt and taxation charges, would conserve natural resources and assist farmers.

The government, he said, was on trial in the coming election. It had to defend a string of broken promises, unfulfilled pledges and the wildest extravagance. It had failed to live within its income, failed to build good tourist roads, its work and wages promise was nothing but a false promise like Albert's $25 a month promise in Alberta, and it now sought (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Liberals Named At Point Grey

Weir, McKeen and Wilkinson Again Chosen at Nominating Convention

Vancouver, April 22.—The same three men who successfully contested the 1933 British Columbia general election in Vancouver-Point Grey riding will again carry the Liberal banner at the June 1 polls.

Delegates to a Liberal nominating convention held here last night to select candidates for the constituency named Hon. G. M. Weir, S. S. McKeen and Robert Wilkinson as their unanimous choices. No other names were placed before the convention.

Dr. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, who was one of the Legislature's strongest supporters of the health insurance bill referred to the electorate in a plebiscite in conjunction with the election, did not refer directly to the health scheme in his acceptance speech.

At the close of his speech he mentioned "violent opposition to certain health measures," but did not elaborate. He said a plebiscite would effectively "set the matter at rights."

Mr. McKeen told the delegates: "Work and wages was once a joke with our opponents, but now they are afraid to mention the subject."

Mr. Wilkinson, denying rumors he was suffering ill-health which would make it necessary for him to refuse the nomination, said he was "ready, willing and able" to undertake the campaign. He spoke of British Columbia's high standing in eastern financial circles.

At the November, 1933, election, Dr. Weir polled 12,163 votes, Mr. McKeen 9,880 and Mr. Wilkinson 9,393. Mr. Wilkinson's poll was nearly 2,000 votes more than the fourth highest candidate, W. A. Fritsch of the C.C.F., who received 7,693.

Premier T. D. Pattullo, in Vancouver to address Samuel Lodge of B'Nai B'Rith and conduct departmental business, did not attend the convention.

Two Spokesmen for General Motors and Two for Strikers Join in Discussion in Hepburn's Office in Ontario Government Buildings, With Men's Committee Outside, Within Calling Distance

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—Settlement of the fifteen-day strike of Oshawa automobile workers appeared nearer today than at any time since the walkout April 8, as union spokesmen and General Motors executives sat down with Premier Mitchell Hepburn to work out a detailed agreement.

Present when the conference settled down to work at 1.30 o'clock, half an hour late, were H. J. Carmichael, vice-president and general manager, and J. B. Highfield, plant manager of General Motors of Canada; J. L. Cohen, union counsel, and C. H. Millard, president of the Oshawa local of the United Automobile Workers of America and also a U.A.W.A. organizer.

The Oshawa strikers' negotiating committee was also present. It was not known beforehand whether the committee would ultimately take direct part in the conference or whether it would remain in an ante-room where Cohen and Millard might consult its members.

A notable absentee was Hugh Thompson, Committee for Industrial Organization organizer, who has been centre of much of the preliminary trouble.

BASIS OF HOPES
Hopes the conference would result in an early settlement were heightened by the amicable way preliminary arrangements were made yesterday, when the Premier held simultaneous but separate conferences with Carmichael and Cohen. It was understood Carmichael and Cohen conferred privately here at noon.

Taking part in the conference with Premier Hepburn were Hon. Paul Leduc, Attorney-General and Minister of Mines; Hon. Harry Nixon, Provincial Secretary, and Louis Pine, Ontario Labor Department mediator.

MARKING TIME
Canadian Press
Oshawa, Ont., April 22.—General Motors strikers marked time today while their representatives began new negotiations with company officials in Premier Hepburn's office in Toronto.

The sudden swing toward a new conference came yesterday when union leaders agreed to the company's ultimatum that settlement terms must be talked over with the Premier.

Hugh Thompson, the C.I.O. organizer, whose presence at past parleys was protested by Premier Hepburn, left last night for Washington.

Pay cheques, earned during the week preceding the strike, were collected today by strikers, who silently entered and left the pay office of the company.

Some were fearful of collecting their pay, believing the company might place "quit slips" in the envelopes. The company, however, announced no such step would be taken.

Britain to Join Economic Talks
Government Would Participate in Any Properly Prepared World Conference, Baldwin Tells House of Commons

Associated Press
London, April 22.—Prime Minister Baldwin told the House of Commons today Great Britain is willing to participate in a new world conference "provided a comprehensive investigation showed it was likely to succeed and provided there had been adequate preparation."

Mr. Baldwin was asked by Arthur Henderson, Labor, whether he was "aware of the declaration of Herr Hitler that the German government was willing to participate in a new world conference."

"Yes, sir," the Prime Minister replied.

Answering a question concerning war debts to the United States, Rt. Hon. George Lansbury in Berlin the Reich would be "very willing" to attend an international conference for "economic co-operation and mutual understanding" if President Roosevelt or the head of another major power would call it.

Theft Guilt Plea Covers $6,000

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—Stephen E. Jannosy, Hungarian owner-editor of a nationally-circulated newspaper, was remanded till April 27 for sentence in court here when he pleaded guilty yesterday to taking for his personal use more than $6,000 in savings entrusted to him by poor persons of his race.

Jannosy, a doctor of law, was given the money for remittance to friends and relatives of his clients in Europe. The sums ranged through nineteen charges of theft from $10 to $2,000. They had been given him in his capacity as owner-manager of a ticket office which dealt with sending of money to foreign countries.

Envoys' Moscow Friend Missing

Foreign Missions Lose
Touch With Boris Steiger
in Soviet Capital

Associated Press
Moscow, April 22.—Diplomatic missions in Moscow today discussed the apparent disappearance of their useful Russian "friend," Boris Steiger.

Steiger for years dined daily with some diplomats and never missed a diplomatic function—no matter how small—but for the last three days he has failed to keep his engagements.

Inquirers at his hotel were informed he was out of Moscow, but many diplomats said they believed he may have been arrested.

If so, his disappearance caps a hard winter for the diplomatic colony, which already has lost its only Protestant minister, its dentist and its only serviceable laundry.

Steiger, known as "the baron" because of his connections with an old Swiss family, played a unique role. Ostensibly he was secretary of the art committee of the Commissariat for Education—a job with no diplomatic connection.

He was believed generally, however, to have direct connections with the Kremlin in maintaining "unofficial" contact with foreign missions.

He made himself useful to the diplomats in many ways. He quietly advised them of developments weeks, sometimes months, before they were known to the public. Most of his "tips" proved to be authentic.

He also was the diplomats' "confidant" in receiving protests or complaints which they did not want to communicate through formal channels. Many diplomats considered him to be a diplomatic plainclothesman for the secret police.

New Labor Grouping At Harvester Plants

Chicago, April 22.—Abandonment of the International Harvester Company's employee representation system, or company union, was announced yesterday by Sydney G. McAllister, president of the company, in letters to 35,000 employees.

The dissolution applies to units of the Harvester Industrial Council in the company's fourteen plants in the United States.

Hitler Enjoys Art and Theatre

Modern Stage Built in Chancellery in Berlin For Reich Leader

Associated Press
Berlin, April 22.—Adolf Hitler is finding time to toy with the arts and the theatre these days.

The strain of busy days to establish his power has lessened greatly, and the Fuehrer begins his forty-ninth year of life surrounded by many new pleasures.

An artistic, modern theatre has been built in one wing of the Reich Chancellery in the Wilhelmstrasse. Its revolving, disappearing stage, blue and silver auditorium and artistically decorated dressing rooms are said to be the very latest in theatre construction.

Hitler likes to attend rehearsals of casts from state operas or theatres who are to perform for him, and he often takes a hand in suggesting artistic changes.

His Munich home is filled with an elaborate art collection. "He has an exquisite taste," a Berlin art dealer related.

Man Made Plans For Own Funeral

Associated Press
Orange, N.J., April 22.—Giuseppe Fiore's funeral was just as he wanted it, for he had planned it in anticipation of death, which came on the day he predicted.

Some time ago Fiore, fifty-six, picked a solid oak casket. He chose a tuxedo for his funeral clothes, and ordered flowers for his funeral.

Fiore told members of his family last week he would die "the last of the week." Saturday afternoon he took a walk, telling his family he wanted "to take one more walk before I die."

That night he collapsed and died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The body was buried Tuesday.

United Churchman On Birth Control

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—There is a necessity for knowledge of birth control, Dr. Ernest Thomas of the board of Evangelism and Social Service, United Church of Canada, told an audience here last night in an address on voluntary parenthood. Such knowledge would not only decrease divorce but would not affect the birthrate.

"There is not much value in being a parent by accident," said Dr. Thomas, urging the necessity of taking parenthood from the realm of superstition and mystery.

Too many people believed "birth control" indicated childless marriages and security for licentiousness outside marriage, he said. But such was not its purpose. It was decidedly for saving human life.

SABOTAGE IN RUSSIA GREAT

Wrecking Has Set Back Industry, Says President of Soviet Council

Associated Press
Moscow, April 22.—The vast extent of wrecking activities in Russian industry has been disclosed by Vyacheslav Molotov, president of the Council of People's Commissars.

Though admitting all the facts were not known yet, he said "we already know enough to say that serious injury has been inflicted on our national economy, and on heavy industry in particular."

Molotov's survey of activities, by what he called "Trotskyist and other agents in heavy industry and other divisions of our system," was given in a speech before the Plenum last month of the Communist Party and published yesterday.

"Already hundreds of business managers with Communist Party tickets, as well as non-party engineers and technicians occupying responsible positions in the commissariat of heavy industry, where they have been carrying out criminal wrecking activities for a number of years, have been exposed," he declared.

He named five former vice-commissars, including four former vice-commissars for agriculture, as among the wreckers discovered in the past.

COPPER AND RUBBER LOSSES
Wreckers caused the loss of 80,000 tons of copper as well as the suspension of work in three big shafts for three months, he declared.

He said the head of the rubber industry had confessed that by mixing up the synthetic rubber formula the Yaroslavl rubber factory had succeeded in turning out 200,000 worthless tires in 1936.

Lords Commanded For the Coronation

Orders in Old Phraseology
Sent to Peers; Other Leading Guests Are Invited to Ceremonies in London May 12

Associated Press
London April 22.—The command to be present at the Coronation on May 12—"all excuses set apart"—has been issued to all peers and peeresses by the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk.

This command to attend is to dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts and barons. Other guests of exalted position are merely invited.

The summons, in old phraseology, reads as follows:

"Right trusty and well beloved—We greet you well.

"Whereas the twelfth day of May next is appointed for the solemnity of our royal coronation;

"These are to will and command you (all excuses set apart) to make your personal attendance on us at the time above mentioned, furnished and appointed as to your rank and quality appertaining, there to do and perform all such services as shall be requisite and belong to you.

"Whereof you are not to fail.

"And so we bid you most heartily farewell.

"Given at our court of St. James's this twelfth day of April in the first year of our reign.

"By His Majesty's command. Signed, 'Norfolk, E.M.'"

FOOD FOR MULTITUDE
Several of London's big catering firms expect to break all records for supplying food and drink when the enormous crowds assemble on May 12 to watch the Coronation procession.

For twelve hours or more these crowds will be locked within a fixed area by traffic regulations. If the day is warm there is going to be a great and amazing thirst. There must be tea and meat pies and cake and buns.

To service these crowds dozens of refreshment stands and large "store marquees" are being built along the procession route.

The food to be supplied by one firm alone will cost approximately $100,000 and will include 100,000 sandwiches, 50,000 meat pies, 1,000 slabs of fruit cake, $5,000 worth of assorted biscuits, 250,000 cups of tea, 50,000 half-pint cartons of milk.

ENTERTAINMENT COSTS
Entertaining visiting royalty and prominent guests from overseas, along with thousands of minor Empire officials, is going to cost the government at least $500,000 during the Coronation festivities—and maybe that much again.

What is known as "government hospitality" is going to spread out on a grand scale, with state dinners, receptions, garden parties and the like. Some 40,000 visitors, it is estimated, will share in this hospitality.

There are winds blowing around some of the stars at a velocity of 144,000 miles an hour.

MAN CONVICTED ON AUTO CHARGE

Canadian Press
New Westminster, April 22.—George Coombs, former companion of Gordon Fawcett, who, with Vernon Campbell, recently escaped from the Oakalla prison, was convicted by Judge F. W. Howay in county court here yesterday on charges of being in possession of a stolen automobile and a revolver and was remanded one week for sentence.

A charge of robbery with violence against Coombs was dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Coombs and Fawcett were arrested in January on a highway near Pitt Meadows, B.C., east of here, after the attempted robbery of a Port Moody resident, who discovered two men in his garage.

Police forces of the lower British Columbia mainland are still searching for Fawcett and Campbell, who successfully escaped from the prison by sawing a bar from a window of the building.

Charles White Dies Suddenly

Associated Press
Cortland, N.Y., April 22.—Charles White, seventy-six, baseball writer and former secretary of the old New York State League, died suddenly yesterday after a heart attack. He formerly published "The Little Red Book of Baseball."

He was widely known among players and managers of the past half century.

White, who served as president of the Western League (now the International) some forty-five years ago, was a relentless pursuer of baseball facts. After he would spend days checking up on one record before he'd permit its inclusion in the "Little Red Book."

NEW MISSION CITY REVEALS
Mission City, April 22 (Canadian Press).—John W. Doyle was elected reeve of this Fraser Valley town yesterday by acclamation, to succeed Reeve W. H. Wren, who died several weeks ago. Mr. Doyle, formerly a member of the municipal council, resigned to run for the reeveship.

in Mutuality is Strength

Like the many strands that give strength to a cable, 70,000 policyholders have banded together for one common purpose—the fulfillment of their financial plans through profitable life assurance.

The advantage of mutuality for the Company's profit-sharing policyholders lies in the fact that they receive in dividends the entire profits arising from the operation of their business.

Armament Taxation

RT. HON. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN's last budget—seems to be slated for the Premiership after Mr. Baldwin retires—is meeting with a good deal of opposition not only from Conservative members of the House of Commons but from influential financial interests.

The proposed new tax on business profits has caused the most sensational stir in the "city." The Financial News calls the opposition almost universal—"from the Stock Exchange to Mincing Lane the new profits levy has aroused resentment and consternation. On all sides there is violent criticism of the inequalities which it must involve, and everywhere there is confusion and uncertainty about the way in which the scheme will work."

The News quotes members of the Stock Exchange as basing their objections to the Chancellor of the Exchequer's proposals on three main grounds: (1) that it is not just an incidence; (2) that it is complicated to an extreme degree; (3) that it is a damper on enterprise. On the other hand, the man in the street, say today's dispatches from London, is taking the new tax on income calmly—it is now back at what is termed the "crisis level"—because he reasons that firms making big profits from armaments and as a result of armaments are under special obligation to contribute to the state.

As in all budget presentations, vital details may be amended, but such an overwhelming majority as that which the Baldwin government commands in the British House of Commons will have no difficulty in approving the general principle of this part of the Chancellor's financial message. As the debate proceeds, however, there will be repercussions from the general public because the new taxation is, after all, armament taxation.

Three Holidays

JUNE 9, INSTEAD OF HIS NATAL day, December 14, is to be observed in Canada as well as in the United Kingdom as the birthday of King George VI.

We out here and many papers in the east had hoped with The Ottawa Journal the government would set May 24 for official observance of the Sovereign's birthday. For May 24 has the appropriateness of royal associations, marking the advent of summer, coming for Canadians as the first outdoor holiday of the year and at a season when our countryside is fresh and lovely. There is not the least obligation upon Canadians to follow the British tradition, as Victoria Day, for example, is not observed in Britain.

The Journal fears we may be tending to overdo public holidays. This year, in less than four weeks, we have holidays on May 12, May 24 and June 9 with banks closed, schools closed and a general disruption of business routine even though retail establishments do not close on all three days.

Another Comet

TO THE THREE COMETS already found this year it is likely that a fourth will soon be added. From those who know about such things, we learn it is about time for the Grigg-Skjellerup comet, which returns every five years, to make another appearance. Two English astronomers, P. J. Harris and W. P. Henderson, have calculated the path in which it should be moving.

According to their reckonings, it is now just east of the constellation of Orion, seen in the western sky soon after sunset, and characterized by the familiar three stars in a row forming the belt of the figure. It is moving in a northeasterly direction, and about April 25 should be approximately half way between the star Betelgeuse, in Orion, and Procyon, in the lesser dog.

Many astronomers are now watching for it, and it should be found within the next few weeks. However, it is not likely that it will become conspicuous. On previous visits, it has never been visible except through telescopes.

The comet was first located by an astronomer named Grigg in 1902, but was lost until May 6, 1922, when J. F. Skjellerup, at Melbourne, Australia, found it again, so that now both names are attached to it. On its next return, in 1927, it was located first by Dr. E. Delporte of the Belgian Royal Observatory, near Brussels, on March 21.

In 1932, Dr. George Van Biesbroeck of the Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, was first to locate it. His earliest observation was on March 6 when it was of the sixteenth magnitude, and in the constellation of Orion. Its path then was very much the same as that which has been predicted for it now.

Probably the first observations of it this year will be made, as then, on photographic plates. A comet so faint does not look different from a faint star, but by comparing two photographs, made some hours apart, the comet can be seen to be moving. The stars move, but they are so distant that years are required before their motion becomes evident. After three separate observations of a comet are obtained, its exact path can be calculated.

Not Goering

NAZI GENERAL GOERING WHO expected to represent Germany at the Coronation in London will not be there. Because the Ethiopian Haile Selassie has been invited, Mussolini's Italian representation will be restricted. But Goering's absence will be for another reason. The reason is that the Independent Labor Party of Britain has won a victory in its fight against his presence at the festivities.

The party distributed leaflets by the thousands protesting against his coming, sent speakers to the trade unions, co-operatives, political parties, and churches and collected from more than 700 organizations a petition asking the government to prevent the chief of Germany's air forces from being received as an "honored guest of this civilized community."

"As in 1907 the Russian Czar was prevented from landing in England by the mass action of the workers," says the petition, "in protest against the treatment of our Russian fellow-workers, so in 1937 General Goering, the representative and organizer of a far more gross and brutal tyranny in Germany, must be kept out of our country."

"To allow such a person to be welcomed as an honored visitor to this country would be to insult the people of Great Britain, to strike a blow at the international solidarity of the working masses, to betray the gallant memory of our many friends who have fallen victims in the struggle for freedom."

In addition to the petition ten crowded mass meetings were held. Premier Baldwin and his government reconsidered and a "tip" to Berlin did the rest. Von Blomberg will replace Goering.

Henty Publisher's Epitaph

THERE ARE A GOOD MANY middle-aged men in this country who ought to read with a certain melancholy and sentimental interest the news that the A. L. Burt publishing house has been sold.

Not that the fate of one lone publishing house is of especial importance. But this Burt firm unloaded on the youth of thirty or more years ago a perfect deluge of adventure stories, and if there is a grown man in the land who did not, as a boy, dip into at least one of the firm's offerings, it can be only because he did not read at all.

For it was Burt who published G. A. Henty, Horatio Alger Jr., James Otis and Harry Castleman—and where is the lad of the early 1900's who did not devour as many books by those peerless authors as he could lay hands on?

Those authors today sound very antiquated and out-moded. But they gave millions of boys long hours of interest and excitement—and handed them a set of decent, manly ideals into the bargain. Not a bad epitaph, for authors and publishers alike.

Sleepy Motor Drivers

WHENEVER THE DRIVER OF AN automobile falls asleep at the wheel long enough to cause an accident—and that is not very long—he will be lucky if he ever wakes up. A study of driver-asleep accidents in various areas reveals that one out of every twelve kills somebody, and that one-third of the time it is the driver himself.

A surprising fact developed by the National Safety Council is that nearly half of the drivers who fell asleep had been driving for less than two hours. A third of them, however, had been without sleep for sixteen to twenty hours, so that it is evident that lack of proper amounts of sleep rather than grueling grinds at the wheel is responsible for a large number of these mishaps. The drowsy driver returning home from a late party is the most common victim of the highway nap, and he usually drops into slumber and oblivion at about 2 o'clock in the morning.

Like passenger-car drivers, truck operators often nap after only a short turn at the wheel, and the explanation lies in the same lack of sleep, 80 per cent of them having slept less than seven or eight hours in the past twenty-four, and more having been without the normal fourteen or sixteen hours in the preceding forty-eight.

Pedestrians need not worry too much about slumbering motorists because only 2 per cent of fatalities involved the innocent bystander. A case was found, however, of a pedestrian falling asleep himself, with equally fatal results.

Motorists who have a hard time keeping awake at the wheel should get off the road immediately. Otherwise they will have a harder time waking up.

Notes

Man keeps improving the means of communication, but not, alas, the stuff communicated.

If Duce is having his troubles in Ethiopia and Spain. He wanted a place in the sun, it seems, but does not care for the sunburn.

Future civilizations will find much to puzzle over in the records of our civilization. For instance, one of our biggest industries today is digging gold from the ground, with our governments buying the gold at $35 an ounce and then "sterilizing" it, or, in other words, burying it in the ground again.

Pictures in the advertisements of the new trains down the coast with their modernistic cocktail lounge cars move us to ask "What next?" Col. T. R. Hill, Detroit industrialist, supplies part of the answer in a Jamestown Chamber of Commerce address in which he showed plans of the railroads for trains to carry "swimming pools, bowling alleys, picture shows and dance halls."

Loose Ends

Mr. Pitt talks about life in his cathedral—about the evil of these times—it is warm by the stove, close to the Crusaders—Alfred's Church is full of music—and the voices of living men.

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

WINCHESTER.

BY THE STOOL

MR. PITT finds the spired cathedral of Salisbury comfortable in these chilly spring mornings. He sits there on a stone bench, above the bones of a Crusader and close to one of the big drum stones, and he can contemplate a life amid these reminders of mortality, without interruption. He lives on an old age pension and will accept a shilling from you, if you insist. He thinks he is a descendant of Pitt the Elder and his eminent son, but this is of no real importance. The only important thing to the present Mr. Pitt is Salisbury's cathedral with the tallest spire in England rising sheer out of the green sward.

Every day Mr. Pitt comes into his cathedral to keep warm by the stove—for his lodgings, while comfortable enough, are not inspiring because the landlady, to be frank about it, is not a devout Christian—and every day he writes down painfully in a little notebook the thoughts inspired by these solemn surroundings.

Mr. Pitt is over eighty now, a tiny man with a face infinitely wrinkled and that have seen the glory of the great cathedral and its inhabitants, lying beneath the stone floors. In his eighty years he has collected innumerable diaries containing thoughts that came to him in the cathedral while he was keeping warm.

THRIFT

ONE OF MR. PITT'S great thoughts is "Thrift without meanness." He has practiced it all his life and when I talked to him he was debating whether he should expend a ha'penny on a new notebook before he got his next pension money. You have to be careful about such things, he says, in a wild and degenerate age when even the children ask for like pens, and some men, even churchmen, mark you, are reported to receive salaries as high as ten pounds a week. But, says Mr. Pitt, regarding you earnestly out of his puckered old eyes, we must not be uncharitable toward the rich for they, too, are human beings and some day may see "God and glory." Meanwhile the problem of providing another notebook, to replace that already filed with great thoughts from Salisbury Cathedral, is growing formidable.

Many another man must have found peace and inspiration in Salisbury Cathedral since the April day in 1220 when Bishop Poore laid the cornerstone, and many of England's great lie here in tombs richly carved, the Crusaders in their chain mail, legs crossed, to show that they have fought for the Holy Sepulchre. But none has been more faithful to the Cathedral, none has spent more time in contemplation there—beside the stove, where it is warmer than in a poor lodging—than Mr. Pitt with his ha'penny notebooks. When his work of meditation is complete and his notebooks full of great thoughts, they should lay him here among the other Crusaders.

ALFRED'S CHURCH

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL is older than any one can say accurately, one of the great churches of the world. Alfred lies there, the first real King of England, below the mighty square, squat tower that the Normans built. As we walked in through the ancient oaken doors, the huge vault of grey stone, soaring in Gothic arches from giant columns, seemed quite empty. But music surged up through a forest of rich groining and we could hear the voices of men far off.

They were holding service there, though it was not the Sabbath, as they have held it in Winchester since Alfred's time, but so vast is the Cathedral that we could see no one, only hear the sound of voices raised in hymns and prayer. It was strange and rather beautiful to stand there, on the stone slabs above the graves of England's great, close to the bones of Alfred, to listen to the distant voices and the music rolling faintly between the forest of stone columns, as if Alfred and his companions had risen up to worship in secret. Outside, the bustling city of Winchester, ancient capital of England, went about its morning business. Inside the Cathedral, we were back in Alfred's time.

SHE'S THE VERY IMAGE OF MRS. SIMPSON

LONDON. AT MADAME TUSSAULT'S wonderful waxworks, the curators now running the famous exhibition have a great respect for the proprietress. That is why the wax effigy of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, elegantly draped in an evening gown of red satin, is separated from Britain's royal family by a group of British generals carefully looking in an opposite direction.

And it is a good barometer of current feeling that Madame Tuussault's clients aren't paying much more attention to the future Duchess of Windsor than they are to the Admiralty section. If the royal family circle has been arranged around the throne in the order of each member's importance, Edward VIII, now Duke of Windsor, is not getting a break. His wax figure is the farthest away from the royal seat. He looks haggard, too.

For a shilling and sixpence, a guest of the Tuussault museum can see 42 wax figures of the famous, including Henry VIII looking bloated after one of his gargantuan feasts, Herr Hitler avoiding II Duce's icy stare, Greta Garbo in a scene from "Anna Christie" with the late Marie Dressler, Mae West as she was in "I'm No Angel," and Shirley Temple who holds the centre of the stage.

In the gallery of kings and queens, Victoria looks remarkably like Helen Hayes in the third act of "Victoria Regina" and over in the American group, Franklin Delano Roosevelt is looking Herbert Hoover sharp in the eye. All London isn't around, though. And the late President Coolidge's morning trousers need pressing.

They keep up with the news at Madame Tuussault's waxworks and in the Chamber of Horrors, which can be seen for an extra sixpence, there is always room for a gory tableaux of the latest trunk murder. But the curators also remain faithful to classic killings. Tuussault's will go on showing Marat slain in his tub by Charlotte Corday and other violent dramas of historic victims while they were soaking in suds.

The little Frenchwoman's waxworks has been an institution of London since 1802, and has grown from a backroom to a four-story building with an attached movie theatre and restaurant.

NO TRAVELER

FROM THE MONTEZUM TRANSCRIPT
 An outstanding expert throws grave doubts on the truth of the story books tales about the travels of Peter Rabbit. In fact, declares the director of the Ohio Woodville Research Station, Peter and his relatives seldom travel at all and many bunnies are born, spend their entire lives and die within an area no more than a quarter of a mile square. Tagging rabbits has convinced him that rabbits are probably the most sedentary of animals. He is persuaded now that the famous race was won by the turtle on merit. Nevertheless, as every dog knows, the rabbit does well in an emergency.

WEAR A ROSE FOR ENGLAND

APRIL 23

O! wear a rose for England
 Upon St. George's Day.
 And we afar from England
 These many miles away.
 Will join in loyal harmony.
 In one united band.
 O'er all the world to toast this day.
 St. George, St. George for England.

The leafy lanes of England
 In April sweet and fair.
 They call to us who love them
 And in memory are there.
 To hear the songbirds calling.
 The blackbird and the thrush:
 To see the springfowers peeping
 Amid a woodland lush.

So wear a rose for England
 Upon St. George's Day.
 Tho' we are far from England
 These many miles away.
 Our hearts can join in harmony
 In one united band.
 O'er all the world to toast this day.
 St. George, St. George for England.

The pride of men of England
 Still beats within the heart
 Of each true son of England
 Tho' we are far apart.
 The flag we love still thrills us;
 The rose, our emblem too.
 Can speak to us of England,
 And all that once we knew.

So wear a rose for England
 Upon St. George's Day.
 Tho' far away from England
 Her wandering sons may stray.
 Today in loyal harmony
 In one united band.
 O'er all the world we'll toast this day.
 St. George! St. George for England.
 W. J. KING,
 Montreal.

WHY?

To the Editor:—In his letter, "Italian Runner" says "It is of vital importance to Mr. Baldwin that the Loyalists lose the war." He follows up by suggesting Mr. Baldwin is hiding his recognition of that vital importance while secretly pursuing a course along that line.

I would like to learn what reasons can be offered to prove this statement. It is known that Italy has cast covetous eyes on Egypt. How could Great Britain benefit by a Fascist government in control of Spain and so commanding a strategic position on the Mediterranean?

View Royal.

C.C.F. PRESS CENSORSHIP POLICY

To the Editor:—You may often have wondered why it is that despite the fact that a large number of your readers are probably adherents of the C.C.F., no newspaper has yet appeared edited solely by Socialists, with any substantial circulation. I think I can enlighten you on this point.

At the top of the correspondence columns of the leading British Columbia C.C.F. paper, The Federationist, appears a note to the effect that the editor reserves the right to edit all letters inimical to the cause.

It is interesting to note that a somewhat similar statement appears in all Russian papers, now that (as a result of the new constitution) the Russian people have "Freedom of the Press" (sic). The columns of the Soviet papers and The Federationist are, in consequence, intellectually sterile.

When we consider the course of events in Russia and the admiration for them which all true C.C.F. members profess, it cannot be considered fantastic to state that if the C.C.F. at any time gains control of our government such repressive tactics may be enforced on all British Columbia newspapers.

Radio Death Watch

From The New Yorker

Broadcasting studios fret a good deal about death. After all, there is nothing to stop a king from dying in the middle of a Jack Benny programme, and this puts a dangerous strain on the studio. When King George V died, many listeners heard the announcement over the air, and the next words they heard were "Ha, ha, ha, this is Signet Sam, folks." The Columbia people were not satisfied with this as a pattern of wireless.

When the Pope was very ill, N.B.C. vowed they would forestall any such unseemly occurrence. By December 19 they had worked out a complete programme to be used when word came to the Pontiff's demise. It was arranged that any other programme, no matter what it was, was to be taken off the air immediately. Three chimes were to be struck, followed by ten seconds of organ music. Then a brief news despatch was to be read. After this the organ was to continue softly while a thousand-word obituary was read, the voice droning along piously against the background of religious music.

Everything was prepared in advance; the obituary was composed, the hymns were selected ("O Paradise!" by Thomas, and "My God, My Father," by Thomas. The plan of course, meant that an organist must always be on duty. From December 18 to January 25 (with the exception of a day or two when the Pope rallied appreciably), four organists, one announcer and one engineer kept the death watch from 7.30 in the morning till past midnight.

The organists were regular staff musicians at N.B.C.—William Meeder, John Winters, George Crook and Arthur Gutow—and they divided the time up generally in two-hour shifts. Accustomed to filling out programmes that fall short of the allotted time, they simply regarded the vigil as a special assignment, and occupied themselves in the usual manner in the musicians' room, talking, reading, playing ping-pong.

Their union wage scale is complicated, but the pay came to something like $5 an hour, with $3 for every fifteen minutes overtime. Much of the deathwatch was overtime. With the Pope's returning health, the studio has laid aside its gloomy schedule and is resolving brighter matters.

MORE FEMININE ADVICE FOR BRUCE

To the Editor:—I would like Bruce Hutcheon to know that the old maids he finds England to be full of, are no more old maids than he is. They are modern, intelligent girls, who go out and make their own way in the world, standing on their own feet and giving and taking in the battle on equal terms with men. They naturally are lonely and frustrated, but they are not the pitiful creatures Mr. Hutcheon finds them to be. ONE WHO JUST MISSED BEING ONE

THREE HEARD BY LIBERALS

Delegates to Nominating Convention in City Are Chosen By Ward Five

Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Alderman W. T. Straith and Archie M. Aitken, who will stand for the Liberal nomination in Victoria, were speakers before Ward Five Liberal Association last night, with Alderman J. A. Worthington, who discussed civic problems.

Mrs. Hodges pointed out that 52 per cent of the electorate were women and she felt sure the men would be sporting enough to give them a voice in the government of the province.

There would be many candidates and many viewpoints presented in the campaign, but she believed Liberal policies would provide the greatest good for the greatest number. She felt there was an opportunity for a woman to add something to the party's accomplishments.

Alderman Straith urged the party delegates to select the candidates they thought would stand the best chance of election. The Liberals, he said, wanted to return a solid ticket of four to the Legislature. He touched upon the west coast road, noting that funds were to be allocated on the project this year. As far as roads were concerned he thought the present government had given the island fair treatment.

Mr. Aitken spoke of his record in civic affairs and a thirteen-year association with the labor movement. At the time of the last convention he withdrew his name for reasons of ill-health, but now was feeling fit and would shoulder any responsibility. He listed unemployment as the important problem facing the government.

Alderman Worthington outlined the problem of municipalities and the need for reallocation of grants and charges from the province. The sum of $2,300,000 was required to run Victoria and $1,300,000 of this went in fixed charges.

Fifty-seven delegates to the nominating convention were chosen.

Odd Fellows To Mark Birthday

Order Will Observe 118th
Anniversary of American
Founding on Sunday

On Sunday next the Odd Fellows Fraternal Organization will commemorate, with suitable exercises, the 118th anniversary of the founding of the order on the North American Continent.

Founded in the year 1819 by Thomas Wilding, the order has had a rapid growth and now numbers over 14,000 lodges, with a membership exceeding 2,000,000, including auxiliary branches of Rebekah's and Theta Rho girls.

In the province of British Columbia there are sixty lodges in operation with a combined membership of over 10,000, and the City of Victoria boasts of two subordinate lodges, two Rebekah lodges and one Theta Rho girls' club.

To celebrate the anniversary the local lodges have decided to follow their usual custom of attending divine service, and all units have accepted the invitation of the rector of St. John's Anglican Church to be present at the evening service next Sunday, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, where special music and a sermon by the curate, Rev. G. R. V. Bolster, on a subject suitable to the occasion will be presented.

The committee in charge of the arrangements request a large response to their efforts, and the necessary seating accommodation has been reserved.

Mrs. F. G. Lewis Again
President
King's Daughters

Mrs. F. G. Lewis of Vancouver was re-elected provincial president of the King's Daughters at the thirty-sixth annual provincial convention which opened in Duncan Tuesday night and concluded yesterday.

Other officers named were: Vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Collings, New Westminster; secretary, Mrs. Graham Bruce, Vancouver; treasurer, Mrs. R. A. Playfair, Victoria; executive, Miss Margaret Ross, Vancouver; Mrs. W. P. Thompson, Miss M. E. Wilson, Cowichan; Mrs. Goode, Surrey; Mrs. S. B. Simpson, New Westminster; Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Victoria; Mrs. Hugh, Cloverdale; Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, Mrs. R. P. McKenzie, Vancouver; and Mrs. R. T. Williamson, New Westminster. Mrs. Graham Bruce, Vancouver, was chosen as young people's chairman. Miss Margaret Ross was elected central committee member.

Fifty-five delegates representing the five districts of Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Surrey, Victoria and Cowichan, were in attendance. After devotional exercises led by Rev. J. S. Orton, Miss M. E. Wilson, president of the Cowichan district, gave the address of welcome, and recalled the founding of the Scattered Circle three fifty years ago, and the establishment of the King's Daughters' Hospital.

An interesting report on the hospital was read, showing that $550 had been expended on furnishing the two bedrooms, which the King's Daughters are maintaining there.

The provincial president gave a comprehensive report and the provincial treasurer in her report said that the membership in the order was 515 in twenty-eight circles. Two new circles had been formed since the last convention, and there are two junior circles.

Miss M. E. Wilson and Miss Maud Wilson were presented with gifts of Coronation spoons and bouquets in acknowledgement of many years of service to the order, and Miss Margaret Ross, Vancouver, pinned a life membership badge on Miss M. E. Wilson. The proceeds from the life membership will be devoted toward the furnishing of the King's Daughters' ward in the new wing of the hospital, a work in which Miss Wilson is keenly interested.

Rev. T. Holway, who for thirty-six years was a missionary in Bulgaria and the Balkan Peninsula, gave an inspiring address.

ROUND TABLE TALK
A round-table discussion on problems of the order concluded the first session. The discussion was opened by Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, Vancouver, who enunciated two major problems, keeping old members and getting new ones, and the problem of leadership.

At yesterday morning's session a consecration service was conducted by Mrs. James Stewart, Victoria. It was announced that the Dominion convention would be held at Kingston, Ontario, June 8, 9 and 10. Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Victoria, and Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, Vancouver, being chosen as delegates.

Greetings were read from the international president and international secretary from New York, and from the Dominion president, Mrs. Anne R. Logan.

Mrs. G. G. Share, daughter of Mrs. Maitland-Dougal who organized the Scattered Circle fifty years ago, entertained all the delegates at tea at her home at Cowichan Bay yesterday afternoon, and was presented with a souvenir gift from the members of the order.

Last night the new wing of the hospital was inspected, and the delegates were guests of the Cowichan Hospital Association at a reception at the Nurses' Home. Miss L. M. Clark arranged a musical programme for their entertainment, and nurses who had their training at the local hospital, under the King's Daughters, assisted in serving refreshments.

John o' Groats and down the east coast. Assisting on the programme were Miss Lora Blake who sang "Perhaps" by Dorothy Forster, and Miss Jean Campbell, whose solos were "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" (Roger Quilter), and "Turn Ye to Me" (Malcolm Lawson). The singers were ably accompanied by Mrs. George Tyson.

The committee of the Women's Guild were commended on the splendid arrangement of the programme, and John G. Simpson for his able assistance with the lantern slides.

Among the guests registered at the Dominion Hotel are: Mr. H. Douglas, Mr. Cecil F. Weir, Mr. A. W. Hunter, Mr. W. G. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ashroby, Vancouver; Mr. H. R. Vimy Travelogue
Enjoyed By Guild

Under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday, Mrs. A. M. Boyd gave a most interesting lecture, illustrated by lantern slides on the pilgrimage to Vimy and Scotland. The lecture room of the church was well filled with an enthusiastic audience and their enjoyment of the lecture was evidenced by the applause at the conclusion of the evening. The journey through France to Vimy was given the audience in excellent detail, showing both the humorous and the serious side of the trip, returning to England and thence to Scotland, where those present were given a wonderful description of the beauty spots, including some of the rare old castles on this motor trip from Glasgow up the west side of Scotland to

Wedding of Duke of Windsor Set

June 19 or 23 Said To Be Date Of Pending Marriage

Associated Press

London, April 22.—Plans are being completed for the marriage of Mrs. Wallis Simpson and the Duke of Windsor, their friends here declared today.

The date of the wedding was expected to be either June 19, Mrs. Simpson's birthday, or June 23, which is the Duke's.

The ceremony, which their friends say will be attended by his sister, Mary, the Princess Royal, and the Duke of Kent, who will be his best man, is likely to be at the Chateau de Candé, near Tours, France, where Mrs. Simpson is now in residence.

Definite fixing of a date, however, was said to await the Duke's arrival at the Chateau after Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree is made final, April 27.

Friends of the Duke of Windsor doubt he will leave Austria before the Coronation on May 12 for, although he says he is "counting the days" until he sees Mrs. Simpson again, he is determined to give his brother a "clear run" during the Coronation. St. Wolfgang, Austria, April 22 (Associated Press).—The Duke of Windsor today obviously was getting ready to travel again. Switzerland possibly, France almost certainly and Africa later were understood to be on the itinerary the former King had under study.

With final action on the divorce of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson approaching, an air of expectancy hung over the Appenzel villa the Duke has occupied here the last few weeks. Mrs. Simpson's divorce nisi is expected to be made final early next month. The Duke spends much time poring over maps, including some of Africa he bought yesterday in Salzburg. That lent color to reports he is considering an African honeymoon after his marriage to Mrs. Simpson.

Friendly Help Secretary Named

Miss A. L. McLaughlin has been appointed to succeed Miss Elizabeth Grubb in August next as general secretary of the Friendly Help Welfare Association. Miss McLaughlin has occupied the position of case worker to the Friendly Help Welfare Association for the last year. She is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan.

After becoming a qualified dietitian and working for several years in that capacity, Miss McLaughlin received training in social work at the University of British Columbia. Before coming to Victoria she was on the social work staff of the Family Welfare Bureau of Greater Vancouver.

The Friendly Help Welfare Association is a private family welfare society organized in 1933 after the amalgamation of the Social Service League and the Friendly Help Association. It is entirely dependent on voluntary contributions and exists for the purpose of preventing the breakdown of the family by building up the individual's own capacity for self-maintenance.

Outlaw Breach Of Promise Suits

Associated Press

Denver, April 22.—A woman-sponsored bill outlawing breach of promise and alienation of affection suits in Colorado received final legislative approval yesterday with its unanimous passage by the state Senate.

The bill, drafted and sponsored by Representative Eudochia Dell Smith of Denver, also would bar civil rights for seduction of adult females.

Knox Y.W. Circle.—The monthly meeting of the Young Women's Home Helpers Circle of Knox Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Miss Bea Hawkins, 217 Linden Avenue, on Tuesday evening, with a good attendance of members present. The president, Miss Peggy McPhail, was in the chair. Rev. J. Mackie Niven attended the meeting and opened it with prayer, the scripture reading following. Business of interest to the circle was discussed. It was decided to become an affiliated auxiliary, instead of home helpers. The treasurer's report was presented which showed a good balance on hand. At the kind invitation of the minister, the next meeting will be held at his home, 107 Bushby Street, on May 18. Meeting closed with the Misses Hawkins served refreshments.

Queen Mary To See Son Crowned

Precedent To Be Created By Queen Mother

Canadian Press

London, April 22.—Queen Mary with her sister-in-law, Queen Maude of Norway, will have a special carriage and an escort of cavalry to Westminster Abbey on the morning of the Coronation, it was announced today.

The two queens will form separate processions with their attendants as they take their seats in the Abbey.

Queen Mary will be preceded by the Lord Chamberlain of her household, the Marquess of Anglesey. Her train will be carried by her grandson, Hon. Gerald Lascelles, younger son of the Earl of Harewood, the young Earl of Uxbridge and Dalkeith, and Viscount Errington. The Duchess of Devonshire will attend Queen Mary as Mistress of the Robes, the same function she performed in 1911 when King George V and Queen Mary were crowned.

Queen Mary will watch the Coronation of her son and his consort from a throne-like chair in the centre of the royal box at the Abbey.

She will be the first Queen Mother in British history to watch her son being consecrated to the country's service. Queen Alexandra did not attend the Coronation of George V.

Raise Doubt On Simpson Divorce

London, April 22.—Legal doubt of the validity of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson's first divorce was raised again today after friends had disclosed plans that would make her the June bride of the Duke of Windsor. A barrister-at-law, a prominent constitutional lawyer, wrote to The Edinburgh Scotsman expressing his doubt that Mrs. Simpson was properly divorced from her first husband in the eyes of British law. He again raised the issue, he said, because a date for the wedding had been fixed. Prof. Keith urged the government last month to remove all doubt of the marital status of the woman for whose love King Edward VIII renounced his throne.

Mrs. Simpson was divorced from Lieut.-Commander E. W. Spencer of the United States navy in Warrenton, Va., in 1927. Her conditional divorce from Ernest Simpson was granted at Ipswich, October 27, and is expected to be made final soon after April 27.

"The only divorces which English law certainly recognizes as dissolving marriages effectively for purposes of status in England are those granted in the court of the husband's domicile," Keith declared.

"It seems plain that Mrs. Simpson's first husband was not domiciled in Virginia."

The remedy, Keith suggested, would be for Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to be asked categorically and to state if his advisers consider that the proposed marriage to the Duke of Windsor is valid.

If Mr. Baldwin says yes, Keith declared, there would be no objection to the wedding. If he says such assurances cannot be given, the lawyer urged a special Act of Parliament to say that Mrs. Simpson is unmarried when her English divorce nisi becomes absolute.

The date for the wedding of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson was expected to be either June 19, Mrs. Simpson's birthday, or June 23, which is the birthday of the ex-King.

"Spring Fever" Social Success

About 100 members of the Cathedral A.Y.P.A. and the Metropolitan Y.P.S. enjoyed a "spring fever" social at the Metropolitan Sunday school room. The guests were welcomed by the reception committee, consisting of Miss Audrey Nixon and Messrs. Mun Hope and Len Carmon. Group games were played and prizes were won by Gordon Langley, Christine Reynolds, Bill Taylor and Edna Gwyer. A treasure hunt followed, in which Dorothy Howard discovered the hidden "treasure." After the games, Ivy Bowles and her orchestra led in a rousing sing song. Refreshments were served by Rita Keeler and Florence Gillis. A short devotional period concluded the programme with Jean Craig at the piano. Rev. E. F. Church pronounced the benediction.

Starts to Build Church With $70

Canadian Press

London, Ont., April 22.—Part-time preacher, Sunday school supervisor and Women's Missionary Society president, Mrs. Bruce D. Marwick of Cochrane is also a financier. She is financing the building of a church with $70.

A delegate to the Ontario Presbyterian W.M.S. convention here, Mrs. Marwick, president of the Temiskaming Presbyterian, revealed her church-building plans in an interview.

For the last three years Mrs. Marwick has been teaching Sunday school classes in a rural community twenty miles north of her home. Recently the young people's society of Windsor donated $70 toward erection of a church in the community, and last week, in three feet of snow, men began to haul logs with an ox-team. "The $70, you see, will pay for the flooring, the window frames, glass and other incidentals," explained Mrs. Marwick. "The men will build the church. We hope it will be finished in June."

Duchess Wears "Teapot" Print

Associated Press

Paris, April 22.—Fantastic Paris prints will do their bit to relieve the let-down feeling of Coronation-goers, once they discard their velvet and ermine.

Butterflies and leaves flourish on numerous print costumes chosen from Schiaparelli's collection by smart English women.

Molyneux, too, has designed a number of gay prints.

The Duchess of Kent will go to tea parties in an afternoon ensemble from Molyneux, patterned with white teapots in various sizes. Another gown she has chosen displays an anchor design on brick red and ivory. Its full skirt has inset pleats.

Yellow is one of the Duchess's favorite colors. For morning wear she has chosen a dress and jacket ensemble in lemon yellow crepe, polka-dotted in black.

A note of yellow also appears in one of her garden party frocks of black and white crepe. A draped girdle of soft yellow wool marks the waistline.

The only wool known in ancient America was the wool that Indians of the Andes got from the guanaco, llama, alpaca and vicuña.

SPECIAL Spring DRY CLEANING SERVICE

The DRY cleaning of wearing apparel is but a part of the Pantorium service. At this time of the year, when spring house-cleaning is first in the thoughts of so many housewives, the cleaning of rugs, draperies, curtains, and even complete chest-of-drawers, keeps this big plant busy.

It is logical, too, that women who have paid high prices to have good quality drapes in their homes insist that they be DRY cleaned. They know from experience that "they never look the same if they are laundered."

Drapes and curtains won't sag and droop if they are Pantorium DRY cleaned. They won't shrink. The colors won't run. It is moisture that causes the damage, and in DRY cleaning there is no moisture! That is why we say "Send things to the laundry to be washed—but send them to Pantorium to be DRY cleaned."

What will DRY cleaning cost? It is easy to find out. Telephone Empire 7155. Our drivers are in your district every day, and it is no trouble for them to call. To assist our drivers there are experts of lifelong experience in fabrics, in cleaning and dyeing, at the central plant. They are only too pleased to talk to you about the DRY cleaning of your household drapes, rugs, etc.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

by Nard Jones
© 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

She was up early, before any of the other occupants of the Rose City Trailer Haven were stirring. At first she had expected to hear from Sloss, but remembered that his messages would be at some of the smaller towns south of here—where she had failed to stop. She knew that in Seattle she would be likely to hear from him again, and this time, no doubt there would be no cheque for salary or expenses. Certainly she had to admit that, except for her brief time in San Francisco and Oakland, her work for the Airspeed Trailer Company had turned out to be a colossal failure. That was unimportant now. It meant nothing against the safety of Betty Haynes. Martha told herself that gladly she would make it up to Arnold Sloss as best she could—but only after she had found Betty... if, indeed, she could ever find Betty at all.

From Portland to Seattle is a relatively easy jaunt by automobile, but to Martha it seemed a tremendous distance. Although she drove as swiftly as she dared with safety, the miles dragged by endlessly. To her it was years before she reached the teeming lumber town of Longview, crept through the traffic of Kelso. Even when she had passed the state capital of Olympia, skirted the thriving factories of Tacoma's tide flats, and knew that Seattle was only an hour away, it seemed to her that she would never reach the place. But the wide, four-lane highway was helpful, and at last Martha and her outfit were rolling up Second Avenue, heading for the Denny Regrade district where Sloss had indicated she would find the Yukon Parking Block.

And there, as she had anticipated, the attendant handed her an alarm clock from San Diego. It was from Sloss—and there was no cheque attached. The letter itself was brief. "This is to notify you that, due to your total disregard of my instructions, the services of yourself and Miss Haynes will no longer be required. A representative, identified by a letter from me, will call on you at the Yukon Parking Block and you will immediately turn over the equipment to him."

Martha received the news almost with relief. Indeed, she looked forward to the visit of Sloss's representative—and she had not long to wait. She had no sooner finished a hurried lunch in the trailer's galley than, looking from the window, she saw a thin, mouse-faced individual walking toward the outfit.

She opened the trailer door expectantly—and suddenly recognized that the man was Jack Speddon! The mustache and cap failed to conceal the scrawny features she remembered too well. Desperately Martha leaped to the ground, clutched Speddon's arm, and opened her mouth to scream for assistance.

CHAPTER XVII

But so quick was Speddon that no sound issued from Martha's throat. She was conscious of his pale fist, crashing down like a lightning flash. There were sudden silver streaks against her eyelids as the blow struck—and then everything went black. But so swift is the mind that she knew, even in that febrile instant, what was to happen. In less than a quarter of a minute he would knock her unconscious, shove her into the trailer, and drive away.

This was her final impression; and when she opened her eyes she was startled to see, not the smooth painted ceiling of the trailer, but rough, high rafters. She lay upon several layers of thick, unclean burlap, and her hands and feet were securely tied. It was not until a moment later that she was aware of the tight adhesive tape strapped so securely across her mouth.

"I mustn't get panicky," she thought. "I mustn't lose my head." She rolled over on her side, staring into a bleak, almost empty interior. It seemed to her that she was in a warehouse—and then, suddenly, she heard below her the unmistakable sound of waves against wood piling. She knew then that she was imprisoned in a dock warehouse.

As far as she could tell, she was the only human within the bare confines of that vast place. The few window openings were high, and shed little light. Try as she might, she could not see through the darkness more than fifteen or twenty feet in any direction.

Her jaw ached from the force of Speddon's cruel, cowardly blow. There was a queer feeling in her head and ears, too, as if she might have been under an anesthetic. Surely, she thought, Speddon's fist couldn't have held her unconscious for so long a time. How far was she from the spot where it had happened? It came to her in sudden fear that she was not in Seattle at all. Perhaps this dock was on the waterfront of some little town north along the Sound. She might be 100 miles from Seattle. There was no way of knowing now. Sometimes she thought she heard the muffled sound of traffic, blocks away, but these sounds mingled with the shuffling waves beneath the floor, and she could not be certain. Curiously she remembered Marshall's words in Portland: "If you find Speddon it will be the last thing you ever do!"

And now her tortured thoughts told her that there must be some terrifying connection between Jack Speddon and Arnold Sloss. She was certain now that her first fears, there in San Diego, had been valid. There was something wrong about Sloss and Carrington. The Airspeed Trailer was a "blind" for something—but what? What was this thing into which she and Betty had stumbled so blindly?

She recalled Gerry Neal's warning that she had become involved in something much more serious than she realized. He must have known all along what it was; he was, apparently, involved in the very fibre of it. And she had been fool enough to let herself be attracted to him, to allow him to mislead and delay her.

ARM BROKEN BY SIT-DOWN
New Glarus, Wis., April 22 (Associated Press).—When Farmer Alton Hauser's cow went on a brief sit-down strike, she immediately took steps to enforce it. The animal displayed resentment over being milked, sat down and broke Hauser's arm.

DIFFICULT TO STOP MEASLES

Recent Complaints Bring Explanation of Difficulties

Following the death from measles last week of a Spanish woman, municipal health authorities today issued a statement in reply to several complaints that authorities were not exercising proper control over public health.

"We wish to draw the attention of the public to the fact that an epidemic of measles lasts in a community until those who have not previously had measles have contracted the disease," said Dr. David Berman, Sanich medical health officer.

"There are no public health measures which are effective in limiting or modifying the spread of measles," he continued. "Measles are so infectious that slight contact alone is needed to contract it. Unfortunately, too, it is most infectious or contagious in the catarrhal stage just prior to the appearance of the rash. It is true innocently spread far and wide by those who think they have only a cold."

"The present epidemic is fortunately not one of black and hemorrhagic type with a high death rate. However, several cases of measles have ended fatally for the following reasons:

"First, the disease had been regarded as a trivial childhood disease and has not been treated with sufficient respect.

"Secondly, the physician has not been consulted as to treatment. Cases vary widely as to treatment and length of nursing.

"Thirdly, though a patient is not infectious eight days after the appearance of the rash he must be carefully nursed and watched for at least another week to prevent complications and sequelae such as pneumonia or ear infections.

"Fourthly, children under two or those who are debilitated should receive an immunizing dose of convalescent serum to prevent complications.

"Fifthly, all cases of infectious diseases should be isolated, put to bed and treated under a doctor's directions."

Who is Your Skinny Friend, Mary?

Tell him to take Cod Liver Oil for a couple of months to get enough good, healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man. Tell him it's the only way to take those grave-like hollows from his cheeks and neck. Tell him he won't have to swallow the nasty oil with the nauseating, fishy taste because he can now get, at any good druggist, McCOY'S COD LIVER EXTRACT TABLETS, sugar coated and as easy to take as candy. Any man or woman can put on 15 lbs. of healthy flesh in 30 days or the money is refunded. One woman put on 15 lbs. in 6 weeks. Historic Scene To Be Enacted

Tableau of Early Settlement of Canada Included in Historical Pageant

Back to the Acadian site where Samuel de Champlain sowed the first seeds of civilized settlement of Canada in 1605, students of Quadra Street School will carry spectators at the historical pageant arranged for the Coronation ceremonies at the Royal Victoria Theatre on May 8, 10 and 11.

The young pupils, providing one section of a colorful series of tableaux in their "Romance of the British Empire," will enact a scene characterizing an evening with the "Ordre du Bon Temps."

At Port Royal the Father of New France, as Champlain has become known in history, established the tiny settlement on the Atlantic seaboard. There, amid untold dangers from Indians whose treatment of the settlers was far from certain, he established the "Order of Good Times" in an effort to hearten his men, keep them cheerful and relieve them of the tension of their isolated life.

ORDRE DU BON TEMPS

The order was composed of fifteen members from whose number was chosen a master for the day. To the master fell the lot of preparing the dinner and entertainment which drew the evening to a close.

The tableau will show a typical scene, with Indians seated in waiting for the start of the meal of the fifteen companions. The dinner itself will be faithfully depicted and the repast will be followed by the traditional entertainment of the order.

Pupils of the school participating and the roles they will play follow: Companions of the order: Grand Master for the Day, Lescarbot (played by), Leslie Miles; Champlain, Tommy Kershaw; Pontgrave, Douglas Howell; Poupartcourt, Kenneth Jeans; Father Aubrey, Donald Holmes; others, Ronald Murray, George Wilson, Jack Gillies, Walter Peterson, Donald Garrison, John Riches, Ted Griffin, George Geddie; cooks, Harry Green and Hugh Parry; musicians, Ronald Barker and Jack Parrott.

Organization Work Reviewed

Activities Among Victoria Tradesmen Discussed By Labor Council

Organization work now being carried on among various tradesmen of Victoria was the subject of a report presented to the Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening by James Wilson, council organizer.

Mr. Wilson said sheet metal workers and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners had applied to the Labor Council for charters.

Local butchers were planning organization with representation on the council, he said.

A special committee of R. W. Nunn, J. W. Casey and Mr. Wilson was named to interview the business and trade development committee of the City Council to urge speedy settlement of waterfront difficulties here if possible.

The secretary was instructed to write Police Chief Hestley in regard to reports of alleged rough handling of members of the International Longshoremen's Association by other waterfront workmen.

The council was informed that forty members of the I.L.A. were recently prevented from working the S.S. President Grant by a picket line alleged to have comprised members of the Victoria Longshoremen's Union. The I.L.A., through the council, seeks settlement before serious trouble ensues.

ISLAND PLEDGE IS IMPORTANT

Metchoin Conservative Move Is Stressed By R. D. Harvey at Ward Two

Importance of a resolution of the Metchoin Conservative Association stipulating that all Vancouver Island political candidates be pledged to devote themselves to securing a fair deal and equitable treatment for Vancouver Island, was stressed by Robert D. Harvey, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, at a meeting of Ward Two Conservatives in the Campbell Building yesterday evening.

The meeting chose thirty-eight

Uplands Team To Vancouver

A team of golfers from the Uplands Club will travel to Vancouver over the week-end to meet in an interclub match. The mainlander will pay a return visit to Uplands later in the year.

The following players will represent Uplands: H. Brynjolfsson, C. Brynjolfsson, V. Painter, G. K. Verley, R. L. Chalmers, James McIlraith, J. R. Hiberson, L. J. Hiberson, L. Roach, A. Woodcroft, Col. A. F. M. Slater, C. E. E. Silsby, Colin Tyrell, George Beveridge, W. Herbert, L. N. Harvey and J. A. MacKinnon.

delegates to the Conservative nominating convention. Speakers were Mr. Harvey, F. A. Willis and W. C. Moreby, K.C.

Mr. Harvey outlined what he called the "undemocratic tactics employed by Rev. Robert Connell's party, the C.C.F. and other radical groups in nomination of candidates. He said he had been informed that Liberals required a 1937 membership card in the ward associations before they could vote and whether or not they paid $1 for these he did not know. He compared this with the Conservative plan under which any person who had a vote could vote at the meetings.

Mr. Harvey was sure there would be a long list of candidates from which the four to contest the Victoria seats would be drawn. He urged everyone to support the party and solicit the support of their friends.

There was evidence of dissatisfaction among the Liberal party members throughout the province, Mr. Willis told the meeting. He said working men had found out too that the C.C.F. and Social Constructives held nothing for them.

Mr. Moreby urged the electors to beware the false promises of Liberals which would soon be slipped into their ears. The Liberals, he said, knew full well they had not carried out their election promises.

MILL WORKER LOSES ARM

Vancouver, April 22 (Canadian Press).—I. Watanabe, twenty-four-year-old Japanese mill worker, lost an arm while on duty in Robertson and Hackett's sawmill here yesterday when his clothing became entangled in swift-moving gears. Fellow-workmen stopped the machinery and sent Watanabe to a hospital, where his condition was reported "serious."

Vancouver Jews Hear the Premier

Pattullo, Addressing B'nai B'rith, Commends Its Place in Community

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 22.—Premier T. D. Pattullo, in an address to Samuel Lodge, B'nai B'rith, here last night said he believed new ideals being developed by reason of present confusion and intellectual turmoil would result in a "new concept and a new determination that the forces of evil and misunderstanding shall not encompass the destruction of man."

Mr. Pattullo told his Jewish listeners their race appeared in British Columbia "since the moment the country passed beyond the fur trading days." Old records showed, he said, that when the first Jewish synagogue was built in Victoria in 1863 it was regarded as a community effort to which all, regardless of creed, contributed.

"I am told," he added, "that more than half a century later, when the new Christ Cathedral in Victoria was under construction, a contribution was received from the Jewish community in return for the assistance they received in 1863."

CHARITABLE WORKS

The Premier paid tribute to the fact B'nai B'rith had never been content to leave its ideals of practical charity, benevolence and brotherly love "in the realm of pious theory."

The ideals of Victorian days were being altered, he said, but nothing is more certain than that they will emerge again as an irresistible power in the world.

At the close of his short address, Mr. Pattullo said:

"We have been fortunate in Canada inasmuch as we have managed to keep at a minimum those troubles arising from race and color and creed."

"It is our heartfelt hope that this may continue, and I trust that in accordance with your ideals, this gathering may prove to be yet another milestone along the road towards the goal to which we all strive—mutual understanding and goodwill amongst men."

Dispute Among Spain Rebels

Four Phalanx Leaders Arrested at Salamanca; Executions Reported

By the Havas News Agency
Madrid, French-Spanish Border, April 22.—A revolt within Spain's Fascist Phalanx, with insurgent military authorities forced to intervene to save the national Phalanx leader, Manuel Hedilla, from wrath of his chief lieutenants, was disclosed here last night.

The rebellion broke out in Salamanca, working headquarters of the insurgent administration where Generalissimo Francisco Franco himself spends most of his time, it was learned here.

Four departmental Phalanx chiefs, leaders of the outbreak, were arrested and, according to one version, summarily executed. Another source declared they were imprisoned pending early trial by court martial.

Agustín Aznar, national head of the Phalanx armed militia, was among the chiefs of the uprising, Havas learned.

The site at the corner of Superior and Government Streets, belonging to the Deputy Minister of Finance, J. McE. Smith, which has recently been purchased from Mr. Smith for administrative quarters, will be used for office accommodation for the water department and at a future date a permanent office building in harmony with the central pile is to be constructed.

There was a good attendance at the Fifth Regiment Rifle Association's weekly shoot at Clover Point Saturday, and despite the cold wind blowing across the range, the scoring was good. Lieut. Birch was high man with 94, thereby winning the spoon in Class A and also the watch presented by Capt. Gallop.

At the meeting of the City Council tonight, principal interest centres in the action of the council with reference to the Sooke Lake water works scheme. The report of Consulting Engineer Wynn Meredith on the subject is awaited with interest.

St. John, Nfld., April 22.—Sixty-four bodies have been recovered by the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett, which has been searching the vicinity of the Titanic disaster, according to a report which reached this city yesterday evening.

Indictment For New York Murder

Associated Press
New York, April 22.—The grand jury yesterday indicted Mischa Rosenbaum, thirty-one, on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Miss Julia Nussbaum, night club violinist.

The girl, seen frequently with Rosenbaum, was found unconscious from blows on the head early last Sunday in a rehearsal studio in uptown New York.

Rosenbaum said he had been separated from his wife. He was found, allegedly intoxicated, at home with his wife last Sunday. The Nussbaums have denied the slain girl knew Rosenbaum was married.

Supreme Court Docket Is Clear

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 22.—For the first time in years the docket of the Supreme Court of Canada is clear.

When Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff delivered six appeal judgments yesterday the court had disposed of all cases before it. Court attendants said it was perhaps five years since the docket was empty.

The court will not be without work for long, however, as it will sit again next Tuesday to hear arguments in a new crop of cases.

Birthday Gifts For Princess

Windsor, April 22.—A white pony named "Snowball" from the King, and a saddle, bridle and crop from Queen Elizabeth were among the gifts that brought joy yesterday to Princess Elizabeth on her eleventh birthday. Queen Mary gave her granddaughter ter a suite of miniature furniture for the Princess' little house that stands in the grounds of Windsor Castle, and from Austria came a pair of tennis rackets and a gold wrist-watch from "Uncle David"—the Duke of Windsor.

More than 1,000 persons, assembled in the castle quadrangle for the changing of the guard and cheered Princess Elizabeth as she appeared at a window and received a special salute.

ON MAY 1 at Wembley Stadium, two great soccer machines, Sunderland and Preston North End, will lineup to settle the holders of the prize English Cup for this season. It will be a great day for north of England. The counties of Durham and Lancashire will send huge contingents to cheer their favorites, and fans from other parts of the country will swell the throng at the stadium to nearly 100,000.

Victory in a cup final would be a new experience for Sunderland. The Durham club, famous in English soccer for more than forty years, has won league honors six times, but has yet to be successful in the great cup competition. Only once—in 1913—has the squad reached the final, but the contest at the Crystal Palace ended in a 1 to 0 victory for Aston Villa. On four other occasions Sunderland has appeared in semi-final play.

Back in 1889, Preston North End, one of the originals of the Football League, won double honors with the cup and league championship. The Lancastrians got home with a 3 to 0 verdict over Wolverhampton Wanderers at Kennington Oval, but the historic trophy has eluded them since. They were defeated in two other appearances in the cup final.

While Sunderland has always played in first-league football, winning the championship last season, Preston's career during the present century has been less colorful. Twice the club has dropped into the second division. The last return to major company was made in 1934, the Lancastrians being promoted after finishing second to Grimsby Town.

Preston's powerful attack is clearly indicated in the team's steam-roller advance in cup play this year. Three of the five straight victories were staged before home crowds, and thus far nineteen goals have been bagged compared with only six against.

On the other hand Sunderland has been compelled to fight tooth and nail to reach final status. Two games were necessary before Luton Town, plucky third division outfit, succumbed and Wolverhampton Wanderers carried the northerners to three contests in the sixth round. The Wolves were the only first division team to oppose Sunderland in its march.

Led by Harry Carter and R. Curney, goal-scoring forwards, Sunderland has a final all-round team, consistent in a marked degree. Frank O'Donnell and his brother, Hugh, are brilliant individuals in the Preston vanguard, while H. Holdcroft, goalkeeper, has played for England. The finalists are both well up in the league standing.

Ed Harris Is Softball Head

Ed Harris was elected president of the British Columbia District Softball League at the annual meeting held yesterday evening. Rev. William Crouch was elected honorary president and George Rafter vice-president. Leo Derman was the selection for secretary-treasurer, and Harris was chosen as the umpire in chief. All teams wishing to compete in the league must send their entries in to the secretary by May 8. League play will get under way on May 17.

Rifle Shooting

S.M.I. W. H. Wood topped the marksmen at the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association shoot yesterday afternoon at Heals Range, with a score of 98. He dropped only seven shots over the three ranges of 200, 500 and 600 yards. Wood's scores were 32, 34 and 32. Three were tied for the runner-up berth: Private Glenendine, Garfieldson; Captain W. E. Tapley and Sergeant A. E. Ashe, Canadian Scottish, with 97s.

Scores follow:

Garrison	200	500	600	T
S.M.I. W. H. Wood	32	34	32	98
Private Glenendine	31	31	35	97

LEADING LOCAL PLAYERS AFTER PLACES ON TEAM

New Arrangements May Limit Invasion of California to Two Elevens

Games Sought For Third Contingent

With more than sufficient men registered to form three cricket teams for the invasion of California this September, Ainslie Helmcken, manager of the tour, worked today to arrange special fixtures for a third eleven as curtailed arrangements in the south threatened to limit the British Columbia forces to two squads.

Changes in original arrangements were necessitated when engagements for one of the Los Angeles clubs revealed an intercity-series with San Francisco would remove them from the tournament play. The revised schedule would permit fixtures for only two Canadian teams during the Los Angeles cricket week. To avoid disappointing an enthusiastic group of players who were tentatively listed for the third team, Mr. Helmcken is making every effort possible to secure engagements with teams outside the Los Angeles district at the same time the first two squads are playing in that centre.

British Columbia will be represented by exceptionally strong elevens, according to the registrations filed to date with the tour manager. In Victoria itself such players as Reg Wenman, H. A. Goward, George Austin, Alex Gillespie, Bryan Renwick, R. H. Tye, Jack Bryden, A. W. Pritchett, Bert Lock, Cyril Jones, Steve Barclay, Victoria Moore and several others have listed their names for the trip. 'Cowichan has sufficient registrations from its own district to send down a complete team under the leadership of C. V. Twite. Arthur Leighton, Nanaimo, is also registered with that group.

Vancouver has at least nineteen men who are anxious to participate in the tour. Their list includes T. Reed, C. V. Parkinson, H. H. Flowerdew, D. C. Roberts, P. T. Dale, J. A. Hobday, T. Smith, A. Salt, A. S. Hendy, D. Carr-Hilton, Vernon James Sharpe, E. R. S. Milne, B. H. P. Robinson, A. Houghton, M. H. Davey, Arthur Smith, K. F. R. Mair, W. C. Kellway and Chris Addie. A definite decision on the possibility of sending the third team south will not be reached until Mr. Helmcken has received a reply to the query he has rushed to California on the matter.

NEW ZEALAND HEAVY DRAWS

Maurice Strickland Engages in Ten-round Stalemate With Nathan Mann

New York, April 22.—Maurice Strickland, awkward New Zealand heavyweight, held Nathan Mann, hard-punching brawler from New Haven, Conn., to a draw in the ten-round feature at the Hippodrome last night. Strickland weighed 184, Mann 186½. It was the second successive draw for Strickland, who made his debut with an even battle against Arturo Godoy of South America a few weeks ago.

Strickland, who looks more like a workman than a heavyweight prospect, was too much of a puzzle for the heavy-hitting Mann. All arms and stiff legged, Strickland was as awkward he was tough. Mann lost his chance of victory in the first two rounds. In the first, he was guilty of throwing low punches twice, while in the second he again was warned by referee Jimmy Crowley against fouling. He lost both rounds, just enough to balance the scales in a fight he otherwise dominated with his aggressiveness.

A brave awakened. It was too late. Hannah with her comrades got to him before he could defend himself. A little Indian boy was spared and the other savages were dead. Then came the most ghastly moment of the whole affair. Panicking, Hannah Dustin went to each corpse, scalped it with a knife and made off down the river in a canoe—with her two comrades and ten dripping trophies.

The trio, after going through tremendous hardships, arrived at Hayville a few days later. They were awarded $500 apiece for their heroism by the general court of Massachusetts.

Veteran Hornsby Is Star In Victory

Crashes Home Run and Two Singles as His St. Louis Browns Open Ball Season With 15 to 10 Win Over Chicago; Other Clubs Idle; Seattle Beaten in Home Opener

Old Pop Time is scared silly. Rogers Hornsby has the old fellow ready to wrap up his whiskers, toss away his scythe and give up. The sage of St. Louis stayed on the bench for all but two games last year and Pop figured the Rajah, at forty and with twenty-two years in the big-time back of him, was all washed up. So Hornsby stepped up to the plate yesterday, banged out a homer and two singles as his Browns opened their 1937 baseball wars with a 15 to 10 clouting conquest of the highly-regarded Chicago White Sox.

SIX HEAVIES ON MAT CARD

Donald Clarke, Scot, and Herbie Freeman Billed For Semi-main Spot Saturday

The wrestling card for Saturday night at the Tillamook gym was completed yesterday. Six of the best performers in the heavyweight class will appear for duty in the squared ring, and from all appearances a repetition of last week's thrilling exhibitions should be the order of the night.

Donald Clarke, another of the Scottish grappling clan, who has been appearing in coast cities after a successful invasion of the eastern battle-front, has been booked for the semi-main spot on the card. He will enter the ring to match holds with Herbie Freeman, massive 265-pound New York Jew.

The Red Shadow, who has been roaming all over the coast for the last few months, leaving behind him a string of battered victims, will return for his second successive appearance here on Saturday. His opponent, Paul "Bombardier" Bosch, New York, in the main event of eight ten-minute rounds. These two met here last week and the bout was a real thriller.

Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, will grapple in the scheduled five-round special event with likeable Steve Truelich, Hollywood. The usual local preliminary will open the show at 8:30 o'clock.

C. IRISH IS CUE LEADER

Scores 402 to A. McKittrick's 391 in First Block of City Final

Scoring 402 points to his opponent's 391, Charlie Irish secured an eleven-point lead over Art McKittrick at the end of the first block in the city amateur English billiards final at the Metropolis Billiard Parlors last night. A good gallery watched the finalists in action.

Irish moved into the lead at the start of play and towards the end of the match needed only twenty-five points to complete his 400, while McKittrick needed 125. At this stage the latter staged a fine comeback to wind up the evening's play a mere eleven points behind.

The second block of 400 points will be played at the Metropolis on Friday evening, starting at 8 o'clock. The winner will succeed A. Scott who did not defend his laurels.

Rex Carey In Title Victory

Vancouver, April 22.—Rex Carey, Victoria lad, who trained in Seattle, had a new bathrobe today and was named Vancouver city champion in the middleweight class after his second-round defeat of Jim Gilbey, South Vancouver, at Metropolis Athletic Club's championship tourney here Sunday night.

Carey was one of six boys awarded championships at the end of the exhibition. His victory followed a fast punch to Gilbey's midsection early in the round.

Other championship winners were: Frank Glover, Vancouver, lightweight; Doug Powell, Vancouver, middleweight; Bud Walsh, Vancouver, flyweight; Gordie Woodhouse, Vancouver, welterweight.

Amateur Union Moves Against Hockeyists

Winnipeg Juniors Are Outlawed For Playing Hershey

Action Follows Game Played in Toronto Tourney; Monarchs Won 8 to 7

Sudbury Tigers Oppose Wembley

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—The major question in amateur hockey's double muddle today was the effect of a suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada would have on members of Winnipeg Monarchs, Dominion junior champions.

A few hours before Monarchs were scheduled to play Hershey Bears in an international series game here last night, and shortly after the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association had concluded its three-day annual meeting, a bombshell was tossed into the ring by a delegate to the association's meeting.

Leo Burns, Montreal, Quebec Amateur Hockey Association representative and first vice-president of the A.A.U. of C., issued a statement on behalf of the latter body that meant automatic suspension from any sports controlled by the A.A.U. of C. for players of any team playing Hershey.

Burns said the A.A.U. of C. had been notified by the A.A.U. of the United States that all teams in the eastern United States Amateur Hockey League, of which Hershey was one, had been suspended in March, 1937. Burns said the Canadian body had no choice except to uphold its alliance with the U.S. union and serve warning to Canadian teams.

NOT WORRYING
After defeating Hershey, 8 to 7, players and club officials of Monarchs hustled to the train, homeward bound. No statement was made on behalf of the players or the club, but it was indicated they were not worrying about the situation. It was believed few, if any, of the boys compete in sports under A.A.U. of C. jurisdiction.

The A.A.U. of C. directly controls track and field, boxing and wrestling, and gymnastics and handball.

Cecil Duncan, president of the C.A.H.A., said authorization for the games had been given by the International Ice Hockey Federation, which the C.A.H.A. has just espoused after breaking with the A.A.U. of C. He said any communication from the A.A.U. of C. should have been made directly to the C.A.H.A. or to the I.H.F., of which the American body also is a member.

SUDBURY MEETS WEMBLEY
Toronto, April 22 (Canadian Press).—Finals in Toronto's international amateur hockey tournament will start tonight, several steps ahead of schedule. Sudbury Tigers and Wembley Lions, champions of Canada and of England, will meet in a best-of-three series that follows on an abbreviated schedule.

Winnipeg Monarchs and Hershey Bears, the other two participants, met last night and the Canadian junior

BROUILLARD IS OUT FOR YEAR

U.S. Fighter Draws Suspension For Fouling Thil in Recent Bout

Paris, April 22.—The international boxing union yesterday suspended Lou Brouillard, New England middleweight, for one year and disqualified his manager, Johnny Buckley, for life for fouling Marcel Thil, French claimant to the 160-pound title, in their championship bout, February 15.

Brouillard was disqualified after fouling the veteran French fighter in the sixth round of the fifteen-round bout. In their two previous meetings, Brouillard lost on a foul in the fourth round and dropped a decision to Thil.

NOT RECOGNIZED
Providence, R.I., April 2.—Edward C. Foster of Providence, executive secretary of the National Boxing Association, said last night the suspension handed Lou Brouillard and his manager, Johnny Buckley, by the International Boxing Union in Paris would not be recognized by the N.B.A.

The N.B.A. no longer has a working agreement with the international group, Foster said.

titlists defeated the United States senior champions 8 to 7. Immediately afterward both clubs headed homeward. Hershey had not won in three starts and Winnipeg was under suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada for having played the Bears, who are regarded by the A.A.U. of C. and its ally, the A.A.U. of the United States, as outlaws.

Originally scheduled to go nine games before finals, the tourney has drawn gradually diminishing crowds. Before Hershey and Winnipeg played to an attendance of 500 last night, officials announced the rest of the preliminaries were off and Sudbury and Wembley would begin the last round immediately.

New York—Maurice Strickland, 184, New Zealand, and Nathan Mann, 186½, New Haven, Conn., drew, ten.

Oakland, Calif.—Swede Berglund, 166, San Diego, Calif., stopped Jerome Lewis, 166, Oakland, third round of ten round match.

President Roosevelt Throws First Ball

President Franklin D. Roosevelt may not be baseball's premier pitcher, but he is its premiere pitcher, as long as he stays in office, at least. And here you see him in action, officially inaugurating the 1937 baseball season with a looping "first pitch" out of the grandstand at Washington, D.C., and obviously enjoying the assignment as much as the happy group who surround him. Left to right are Clark Griffiths, owner of the Washington Club; Major E. M. Watson, President Roosevelt; Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics; Bucky Harris, manager of the Senators, and James Roosevelt.

NAVY AND BAYS BATTLE TO TIE

McKay Shield Match in Wednesday Football League Ends in 1 to 1 Draw After Half an Hour Overtime; Both Clubs Miss Penalty Shots

Although the Navy eleven had the better of play throughout the game, which lasted 120 minutes, the best they could do was to come from behind and knot the score 1 to 1 in their McKay Shield semi-final battle against Hudson's Bay yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Park. Bright sunshine prevailed during the afternoon and even if it was a little uncomfortable for the players it was certainly appreciated by the fans—of which there were few.

It was an uninteresting affair during the two regular periods of play, with the scoreboard registering "nils" for both sides at the ninety-minute mark. The teams began to show a little more life in the overtime. The Bays opened the scoring five minutes after the start of the extra session, but just before the half whistle sounded the sailors tied the score.

During one of their non-too-numerous attacks on the Navy goal area soon after the overtime had got under way, the Bays were awarded a corner kick. Don Fish, speedy right winger for the store squad, took the flag kick, setting it right down in the centre in front of the net. Bert Barker, who had come out of retirement after six years, was guarding the Navy net. He punched Fish's well-placed shot out, but Malcolm McBride, Bays' inside right, secured it and from close quarters ploughed the leather high into the net. The goalkeepers didn't have a chance to stop it.

NAVY PRESSES
For the remainder of this period of overtime the Navy pressed heavily, but with most of the Bays' team maintaining a strong guard around their net, the sailors were driven off repeatedly.

There was but one minute of the half left when Wilf DeCosta got possession of the ball and flashed down his left wing with it. Advancing to inside the Bays' penalty area, he crossed to centre field. It was a little low. But this did not deter "Biddy" Ross, Navy's ace pivot man, for with his head almost touching the ground he headed DeCosta's cross into the corner of the net. It was one of the best pieces of head-work seen for some time. During the last session of the overtime the Navy kept hammering at the Bays' end but they failed to get past the bulwark defence the departmentals maintained.

In the first half of the game the sailors held play in their opponents' territory nearly all the time. Their shots at Renfrew's goal were quite numerous, but fired at such a distance that they lacked the required scoring punch and as a result the goalkeepers had little difficulty in clearing. The few attempts that came his way were well taken care of by Goalie Barker.

BAYS GUARD WELL
As in the initial half, the sailors were the aggressors in the final stanza; but the Bays—as they did in the overtime—guarded their goal area well. Attacks from the departmental eleven were more frequent but Dovey and Hibbert, back division men, working like Trojans, did their duty in a fine manner. Quite a number managed to get past the fullbacks, but Barker handled them with ease.

Two penalty kicks, one for each team, were missed. Both occurred in the second half. Cockrill missed the goal completely when shooting for the Navy and Wyatt's drive for the Bays sailed over the crossbar.

The teams follow:

Navy: Barker, Hibbert, Dovey, Hutcheon, Robinson, Walker, Brown, Cockrill, Ross, DeCosta, Peakman, Williams and Young.

Hudson's Bay: Renfrew, Wyatt, O'Connell, Williamson, Kennedy, Ferguson, Fish, McBride, Foden, Stevens, Oakman and Preston.

STYLE That "Belongs"

Another Tip Top creation—and London, right now, is endorsing the same style idea. It's a combination of unusual smartness and loungy comfort. The suit shown here is a two-button single-breasted model. A slightly longer coat, trousers full cut, tapering at knees and cuffs. Fullness through the chest gives a soft draped effect. A suit with true British spirit—stands plenty of wear but always presents a good front to the world.

BIG SHIPMENT
FOR VICTORIAMany Carloads of California
Produce Expected Tonight

A large shipment of produce from California, expected to arrive here late tonight, will include a carload of new crop lettuce, a carload of carrots, half a carload of cabbages, four carloads of oranges, a carload of Sunbelt lemons, two carloads of bananas and half a carload of California grapefruit.

The Texas grapefruit crop has been cleaned up and the shipment of California grapefruit is the first imported for three months.

The first local asparagus is being marketed at 20c a pound. Hot house tomatoes are being received daily on wholesale row, but the supply can not yet cope with the demand.

Some available shipment of New-town apples reached Victoria this morning. Stocks of apples in the Okanagan have been cleaned up to the last box, shippers advise.

A small consignment of strawberries from Louisiana is on the market today.

Movement of potatoes is improving because of lower prices, but the marketing board states that no further reductions in price will be made at present.

FATHER DIVINE

Search; Questions On Stabbing

Associated Press
New York, April 22.—The peace of Father Divine's "Heaven in Harlem" continued to be harried by things mundane today as police sought the negro religious leader "just to talk with him."

While "Faithful Mary," chief lieutenant of the little man who calls himself "God," had forsaken the "leader" and fled herself to an Ulster County hotel, Father Divine still had a charge against him, said by Paul Camora, a process server, who said he was stabbed Tuesday when he attempted to serve the evangelist with a court paper.

"Faithful Mary," a negress, was said to have denied that Father Divine was God and described him as just a mortal who wanted to take her property away from her.

Arthur H. Madison, negro attorney for Father Divine, insisted to detectives that he had no idea where Father Divine might be.

"When 'God' gets in his Rolls Royce," Madison said, "even his chauffeur doesn't know where he's going."

MARKET ACT
APPEAL ENDSJudgment Reserved on Appeal Against Restitution of Tolls to Producer

The B.C. Court of Appeal today reserved judgment on the second appeal brought against the ruling of Mr. Justice Fisher which granted the claim of the Vancouver Growers Ltd. for restitution of tolls and other moneys paid out by them under the marketing acts. Late yesterday the appeal of three members of the board against the ruling was completed.

J. D. McPhee, counsel for the appellant G. H. Snow Company Ltd., agents, finished his appeal against the order shortly before the luncheon interval.

Dealing with the suggestion the marketing board had exerted compulsion against the Vancouver Growers Ltd. regarding the marketing of their produce beyond the bounds of the province, Mr. McPhee stated that if such compulsion existed the Snow Company was no party to it.

Chief Justice Martin summarized the attitude of the trial judge to the effect that the company had voluntarily participated in matters involving compulsion. What, he asked, had counsel to say to that?

Mr. McPhee stated his clients had handled under contract produce and money under mistake at law. The company claimed under the same protective clauses of the act as did the marketing board for transactions carried out in the belief they were right.

DEDUCTIONS FOR SERVICE

Certain deductions made by Snow from the selling price of produce had been made for work done and money spent in marketing, Mr. McPhee contended.

He sought application of certain deductions presented by R. L. Martin, K.C., on behalf of the board members, for his case.

The plaintiff company, the Vancouver Growers, had recognized and acted with the Snow company as the agent of the board, Mr. McPhee said. The Vancouver Growers, Mr. McPhee stated, had reached a point where they dealt voluntarily with the board.

He cited cases governing restitution of payments by agents, stating they were not responsible unless they collected other than in good faith and for themselves.

At the suggestion of the Chief Justice, Mr. McPhee undertook to study Australian cases which might throw some light on the issue.

Mr. Higgins claimed neither Snow nor the appellants in the other case acted in good faith.

"BAD FAITH"

The position of the two appellants had been changed in the Appeal Court from what they were in the court below and their actions throughout showed bad faith, Mr. Higgins said. Members of the board were clearly liable because they used the plaintiff's money to pay their debts to Snow, he argued.

The defendant Snow could not escape liability by saying he paid collected money to the board. He had just made a bookkeeping account, Mr. Higgins said.

Under the act, all the board was supposed to do was to regulate and control the marketing of goods, but the board issued orders compelling the plaintiff to market through an agency and then fixed a price higher than the Growers were accustomed to charge, he said.

Mr. McPhee contradicted the statement regarding the Snow bookkeeping account, saying moneys were actually paid to the board.

Banker Here
After Cruise

After cruising through the Panama Canal aboard the luxury liner Virginia, Archie D. Duncan, manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada at Winnipeg, and Mrs. Duncan, arrived in Victoria today from California with the intention of spending the week-end here.

They are at the Empress Hotel with fellow travelers, Fred A. Lawson, insurance broker of Winnipeg, and Geo. Jeremy, of the Great West Life Insurance Company.

Banking talk was taboo with Mr. Duncan when accosted by newspapermen at the hotel this morning.

"We have enjoyed a swell holiday and business has been farthest from my thoughts," he commented as he set out with the party to make a golf foursome.

"You don't know how well off you are here," he said in appraisal of the coast climate.

"If it proves to be my good fortune to reach the age of retirement I hope to be able to come to Victoria to live."

Appeal Claim
Change Ruling

Appealing the order of Chief Justice Morrison dismissing leave to amend a statement of claim, R. C. Lowe, on behalf of Sam Levi, appeared before the Court of Appeal here today.

The amendment sought covers certain clauses of a lengthy statement of claim in which the appellant Levi, plaintiff in the Supreme Court action, seeks damages including $2,025,000 from the B.C. Distillery Co., et al, for alleged refusal to comply with an implied contract covering disposal of liquor stocks in the United States.

J. W. de B. Parris, K.C., is representing the respondent company in the appeal which is being conducted before Chief Justice Martin, Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and Mr. Justice Sloan.

Thert last night of a set of Fairbanks scales from the Kirk Co. company was reported to the city police this morning.

FREE FERRY

Flow Here

"If this proposal to operate a free ferry across the mouth of the Columbia River goes through, it will mean a 200 per cent increase in northbound travel over Highway 101," said George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, on his return this morning from Toledo, Ore., where he attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Coast Highway Association.

The Oregon Coast Highway Association prevailed upon the Oregon Legislature to provide funds for the establishment and maintenance of a free ferry across the mouth of the Columbia, between Megler and Astoria, and the plan was accepted by the Oregon Highway Commission, under whose jurisdiction the ferry would be operated.

Similar legislation was passed by the Washington State Legislature and the whole matter is now awaiting the decision of the Washington Highway Commission. There is considerable opposition in Washington, it is understood, to the scheme.

Under the proposal as outlined the cost of the ferry operation would be borne equally by Oregon and Washington, the money being derived from gasoline taxes.

The commissioner put over a tourist sales talk for Victoria and made such an impression that the Oregon Coast Highway Association made him an honorary life member.

Scrap Object
Of Propaganda
Rotarians Learn of $890,000 Used Steel Industry From M. L. Greene

The scrap iron industry—a $890,000 business in the United States and Canada in 1935—is the object of a campaign of propaganda on the part of the steel producing companies, Morris L. Greene told the Rotary Club at its luncheon today.

He said charges that the iron and steel resources of this continent were being depleted by export shipments for arms manufacture were disproved by the fact that last year scrap exports were estimated at 1,900,000 tons against a domestic consumption of 36,000,000 tons.

The object of this propaganda was to divorce the price of scrap in the United States and Canada from the present relatively high world-market price by having government embargoes placed on export shipments. The steel companies could thus obtain scrap metal for re-smelting at much lower prices.

Mr. Greene traced briefly the history of the scrap iron industry through its various stages.

The first users of scrap iron, he said, were the old blacksmiths who re-forged used metal because of the high transportation costs of the days before the railroads.

The second stage came with the development of the railroads themselves, and their first replacements. At that time scrap iron could only be re-rolled, not re-smelted.

The automobile brought a new problem to the scrap iron industry by its use of alloys, which could not be re-rolled. This was solved in 1903 by the introduction of the open hearth furnace, which allowed the re-smelting of all iron and steel alloys.

The Japanese steel industry had its start in the masses of scrap, which had piled up during the war years, and which could not be shipped out of the country because of the shortage of vessels. It was in a Vancouver mill that the Japanese steel men learned how to convert scrap into plates and bars for other uses.

It was also the Japanese in the years after the war who, by their export of scrap, purchased of scrap, brought the business from local to a world scale with an international price.

Mr. Greene looked into the future to a time when almost all the world's steel needs would be supplied out of scrap metal. This was quite possible, he said, because as time went on new processes permitted the same equipment and structures to be made out of smaller quantities of metal.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Frank I. Doherty, president of the club.

Charles Mowbray, governor of Rotary District No. 1, spoke briefly on the subject of the district's convention to be held in Spokane at the beginning of next month.

Opera Association
Has Entertainment

With the rendition of part of Mascagni's lovely opera "Cavalleria Rusticana," the Victoria Grand Opera Association yesterday evening formally opened its new headquarters at 1733 Rockland Avenue, where its director, Basil Horsfall, and Mrs. Horsfall are in residence, about 150 members and their friends being in attendance.

Mr. Horsfall said it was hoped to keep up interest in operatic work throughout the summer months and with this idea in mind monthly gatherings would be held.

Taking part in "Cavalleria" were Rita Shearling, Olive Batchelor, Fred Horsfall (taking the place of Jean McDonald, who could not attend because of illness), Norman Tyrrell and Ellis Todd. All did exceptionally well and gave much pleasure.

Mary Thorne-Hughes designed the attractive little scenic set and Douglas Hodgson looked after the lighting effects. The singers appeared in the traditional costumes of this great classic.

Following the presentation of the opera, the guests danced and enjoyed a buffet supper.

The next gathering will be held May 30 when the garden scene of Gounod's "Faust" will be given, with Dallas Rawlins, David Hunter and Arthur Jackman.

Late Slump Erases Early Advances On Wall Street Today

New York, April 22.—After a moderate advance, at the opening, stock market leaders today went into reverse and backed away from gains to three or more points.

Dealings were quiet during the greater part of the proceedings. There also was a handful of issues that bucked the trend and ended with medium-sized gains.

Analysts could find little in the immediate news to darken the market picture, but the light volume, it was said, attested to better commitments by the public were small.

Cheering earnings statements continued plentiful, although here and there it was observed business profits were not quite up to the mark set in the early months of last year.

Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares.

On top of this retarding influence, U.S. government securities again pointed downward, and corporate bonds, on the whole, inclined to skid.

Lows for the year were touched by Baldwin Locomotive, Reynolds Tobacco B, National Biscuit, Brooklyn Manhattan Transit, Radio, Western Union and Public Service of N.J.

In the shipping division were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears-Roebuck, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Standard Oil of N.J., Seaboard Oil, Westinghouse, General Electric, Du Pont, Santa Fe and N.Y. Central.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty Industrials—181.70, off 1.90.

Twenty rails—69.95, off 0.58.

Twenty utilities—30.35, off 0.61.

Forty bonds—101.55, off 0.21.

Montreal, April 22.—Minor setbacks on the stock market today toned down the rapid advance registered yesterday.

Nickel closed at 63 and Noranda at 68, down a point each. Smelters picked up 1/2.

Cement went up 3/4 to 19 1/2. General Steel Ware eased 1/2 and Dominion Steel and Coal 1/2. Gypsum gained 1/4 and Foundation was about even.

National Steel Car gave a point at 46 with Massey Harris down 1/2. McCall 1/4 and Cockshutt 1/2.

Shawinigan and Power Corporation poked ahead.

Close Lower Last-minute Slump On Winnipeg List

Canadian Press

Toronto, April 22.—The advance in the mining section which set in on Tuesday following a series of sharp declines, flattened out soon after noon today and the late price was marked by slow trading and a mild weakening in prices.

Nickel, Noranda, Ventures, Waite, Amulet, Hudson Bay and Pend Oreille were off and Sherritt, Chromium, Coast Copper, Smelters and Aldermar were higher. Eldorado dropped a few cents.

McCall lost 1/2 and British American 1/4. Gains of 5 to 15 cents were shown finally for Calgary-Edmonton, Home, Okalta and Vulcan.

FIVE IN COURT AFTER CLASHES

New England Leaders of C.I.O. Answer Shoe Strike Charges at Lewiston, Me.

Lewiston, Me., April 22.—Police Captain Joseph Picard today arrested Powers Hapgood, New England secretary for the Committee for Industrial Organization, and William J. Mackey, C.I.O. director of a twenty-nine-day shoe strike involving 6,400 workers and nineteen factories in the Lewiston-Auburn area.

Ernest Henry, a union organizer, also was arrested. The three were seized at their hotel.

RIOT AND ASSAULT

A police warrant charged them with "riotous assault," and it was issued in connection with the stoning of State Police Lieutenant George Fowler, knocked unconscious yesterday by a stone as state and Auburn police turned back 1,000 strikers at a bridgehead.

Today's action followed on the heels of an injunction outlawing the strike and granting a temporary injunction against the strikers, and C.I.O. retorts that the court ruling was a "miscarriage of justice" that "meant nothing."

Judges for the contest were J. H. Hill, T. Denny and Gordon Walsh, previous winners. During the evening Nina Joyce, winner in the women's division of the course, repeated her championship speech. Timekeeper was Frank Carls.

Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it good taste for a woman to enter a church bareheaded?
2. Should an ordained minister be addressed as doctor?
3. Should a protestant clergyman be addressed as "Mr. Black" or "Rev. Black"?
4. If one arrives late at a concert, should he wait until the end of the selection before finding his seat?
5. Should one say "Excuse me" to the people he inconveniences by taking an inside seat at a public performance?

What would you do if—
You are attending a church of a faith different from your own and found the service more complicated than you are used to—

- (a) Make an attempt to go through the service by watching those around you?
 - (b) Go through only the more simple forms, such as rising for hymns?
 - (c) Sit through the entire service?
- Answers—
1. No, and it is against the rules of some churches.
2. No, not unless you know he has an honorary or scholastic doctor's degree.
3. "Mr. Black."
4. Yes.
5. Yes.
Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1937

According to astrology this is not an important day in planetary government. However, it is a time for pushing all constructive work and especially promising for architects, who will introduce the use of novel materials into home building.

The signs warn that intrigue, misrepresentation and double-dealing will be widespread as spring advances. Plots against ships will multiply.

Surprises connected with foreign naval movements are forecast. Sudden changes of circumstances are foreshadowed.

Warning is given that May will be a time when Marx, rising in the evening skies, will arouse a desire for adventure and will hasten military preparations abroad.

War influences affecting the relations of Japan and Russia may be strong as this month closes. Rumors are likely to be verified of amazing new discoveries that will make combat a farce because they can wipe out whole armies.

Women should entertain under this rule of stars, which encourages increased interest in dress and amusement. Brilliant social affairs will mark the next two months.

Persons whose birthdate is the 11th, 21st, 31st or 41st of a year of hard work which assures success and brings new friends. Children born on this day probably will be practical, energetic and successful.

Many of these subjects of Taurus have literary or artistic talent.

Edwin Markham, poet, was born on this day, 1852. Others who have celebrated as a birthday include Thomas Nelson Page, author and diplomat, 1853; Arthur Farwell, composer, 1872; Stephen A. Douglas, statesman, 1813.

The saguaro, giant cactus of the American desert, grows to thirty-five feet, but takes about 200 years to gain this stature.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widow forty-five years of age. Time has been kind to me and people tell me I am most attractive. A bachelor, who is thirty-eight years old and who is all that any woman could want in a husband, is in love with me, as I am with him, and wants to marry me.

I have a son eighteen years old and he and this man are the best of chums. In fact, the man already treats my boy as if he were his own son, and the boy is crazy for me to marry him. But my friends tell me that to marry him would be a mistake, that he is too young for me. From close association I don't believe he is a man who will wander away from home if it is made pleasant for him and he has something to read. His only fault is that he reads all the time and I am jealous of his books, magazines and newspapers. What is your advice? E.H.

Answer: Marry him. Everything else being so favorable, the seven years' difference in your ages makes no insuperable bar to your union. Calendars are doesn't always count and inasmuch as he is of the quiet, studious type and you are gay and pleasure-loving by nature, it may well be that you are really younger than he is, after all.

When a woman marries a man younger than she is, the thing that matters is not the disparity in their ages, but how old he is. If he is very young, a boy who has not come to himself, it is a hazardous thing for her to do, and the marriage nearly always results disastrously. For as the lad matures his taste changes and he is pretty sure to lose it for his elderly wife. But if a man is past his first youth, if he is fully grown up and settled in his tastes and habits, then he is a safe matrimonial bet for a woman even if she has had a few more birthdays than he has.

He knows what he wants in a wife and if he picks out one older than he is it is because she has the qualities he admires. Maybe it is because he craves to be mothered. Maybe it is because he finds the mature woman more congenial and interesting as a companion than a slightly young girl. Maybe it is because he wants a wife who is an experienced housekeeper. Instead of a flapper to whose untender mercies he will have to surrender his pocketbook and his indignation. Maybe it is because his guardian angel whispers in his ear that there are no such husband-spoilers as the old wives of young husbands.

Anyway, whatever the reason, the man in his thirties who marries a woman older than himself knows what he is about and he seldom regrets his bargain. And let it not be forgotten that in many cases a woman at forty-five reaches the pinnacle of her attractions and is far more alluring than any bread-and-butter Miss.

The danger in your marriage is not the difference in ages, but the difference in taste. Because, if you are jealous of your fiancé's books, you are evidently not addicted to reading. And believe me, sister, any woman who tries to come between the man who has the reading habit and the printed page is going to lose out, whether she is seventeen or seventy.

DEAR MISS DIX—We have been discussing these child marriages and my husband contends that a girl married at twelve or thirteen makes a better home and mother than the girls of sixteen and eighteen who have run around to dances, drinking, smoking and carousing all hours of the night. I contend that girls who wait to marry until after they are mature and have had an education and have learned some way of making a living, if necessary, make the best wives. I asked my husband if he would allow our daughter, now a baby, to marry when she was thirteen and he said "yes," which greatly horrified me. What do you think of children being married at twelve or thirteen? PUZZLED WIFE.

Answer: When your husband says that he would be willing for his little girl to be married at thirteen he is simply spoofing. It is just one of the things that people say in the heat of an argument and which they don't mean. No intelligent man of decent feeling would be willing for his little daughter to get married while she was still a mere child.

To say that any girl of twelve or thirteen is capable of being a good wife and mother is absurd on the face of it. It takes more strength of body and character, more knowledge of life, more experience than the poor child can possibly possess. And so, no matter how hard she tries to do her duty, she is bound to turn out a bungling job.

Because she has got married, Nature has not changed the orderly procession of development and put an old head on young shoulders, nor taught her by inspiration the things we only learn through slow growth and development. A child is a child and still thinks as a child and acts as a child. The adolescent girl has all the whims and fancies and desires of her hobbledowny time of life, and young shoulders are still too weak to bear the burden that wifehood and motherhood lay upon them.

I do not think that any girl should marry under twenty. I think no girl should marry until she has had the best education that she can take, a wide sphere of knowledge on many subjects. I think that no girl should marry until she has had her playtime.

And, most of all, I think that no girl should marry until her tastes are formed and she knows what she is going to be herself and what she wants in a husband. Marriage is for grown-ups, not for children.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am twenty-four years old and my girl friend is twenty-two. We have both lived a rough, fast life, but we are thinking of getting married and settling down. Do you think we can forget about the past and make a go of marriage? WALTER.

Answer: It depends on whether you have a real desire to reform and the courage and strength of character to do it. If you continue to live the wild life you have been leading, your marriage will be a failure. There is no place in marriage for a drunken husband and wife, or a husband and wife who have affairs with other women and men.

You both have been sinners, so neither one has the right to reproach the other. Why don't you just forgive each other and wipe the slate clean and start in to lead the life that alone will bring you happiness and self-respect? If you do that, you can make a go of marriage. Not otherwise. DOROTHY DIX.

Visits in Alaska

II—GOLD AND FISH

When the United States bought Alaska from Russia seventy years ago, many Americans said it was a foolish bargain. They called Alaska "Seward's ice-box," because Secretary of State Seward signed the treaty, and because the land purchased seemed to them nothing better than an ice-filled waste.

As a matter of fact most parts of Alaska are cold. In some places the temperature falls to 65 or 70 degrees below zero during the long winters. From that viewpoint, we might say there was reason to call it an "ice-box," but there are other facts which should not be forgotten. The southeastern section, the so-called "Panhandle," has a fairly mild climate the year around. Even far to the north, around the city of Nome, the summer weather is warm enough for comfort. In winter, it is different. For Nome is "frozen seven months of the year"—but what else could we expect of a town almost at the edge of the Arctic circle? The interesting thing is that hundreds of islands near Alaska and thousands of square miles of the mainland have a good climate.

The price of Alaska was $7,200,000 "in gold." Let us compare this to the gold which has been found in Alaska in the past seventy years. The streams and mines have yielded gold to the value of more than $450,000,000. This makes the purchase look like a good bargain. The greatest "gold harvest" came after the gold rush which started about forty years ago. Even in the present period, the yield of gold is far more each year than the entire amount that was paid to Russia.

Copper and silver mines in Alaska also have proved of high value. Coal, lead, tin, tungsten and platinum are other minerals found in fairly large amounts. All taken together, however, the minerals of Alaska are not proving as great value as the fish. The yearly catch of salmon alone is worth almost twice as much as all the gold, silver and copper which are being mined there. In addition, the waters around the territory provide millions of pounds of halibut and codfish.

One kind of salmon caught in Alaska is known as the "sockeye." It is about three feet long on the average, and weighs about five pounds. A far larger fish is the "king salmon," which is caught in the rivers of Alaska's Panhandle. It has an average weight of more than twenty pounds.

Local Ship Repair Firms Bid On Jobs

V.M.D. and Yarrow's Limited Expected to Submit Tenders For Construction of New Minesweepers

There is a possibility of one of four steel, screw minesweepers to be built for the Canadian Government this summer may be constructed in a local shipyard. Two of the Pacific Coast's best-known and most efficient shipbuilding firms, Yarrow's Limited of Esquimalt and the Victoria Machinery Depot are expected to submit bids to the Department of National Defence at Ottawa before noon on May 26. Shipbuilding firms on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts and at various ports on the Great Lakes are expected to send in bids for the work, which will be highly competitive. Where the new minesweepers will be stationed has not yet been announced, but one of them, possibly two, will come to the Esquimalt base of the Canadian Navy.

SPECIAL FORMS
Tenders must be sent into the Department on forms which will be supplied to Canadian shipbuilding firms on application to the Director of Contracts, Department of National Defence, Ottawa. Tenders must be accompanied by a certified cheque for $100, which will be retained as security for the return of the plans and specifications.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque for 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. The cheque of the successful tenderer will be forfeited, should they decline to enter into a contract for the work, or should they fail, after accepting the contract, to complete same in accordance with the plans and specifications. The department reserves the privilege of accepting or rejecting any or any part of any tender received, and to award contracts for the construction of one or more minesweepers in any part of Canada as the department may deem most advantageous to the Royal Canadian Navy and the employment situation, says the official notice calling for tenders, inserted in Canada's daily newspapers by L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of National Defence.

CANADA LINK IN AIR ROUTE

Edmonton-Whitehorse Hop Will Be Important in Air Line to the Orient

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 22.—An important link in the proposed all-British round-the-world air system, the 907-mile stretch from Edmonton to Whitehorse, Yukon, will be bridged July 5 when a passenger and airmail service is inaugurated, George Herring of Ottawa announced here yesterday. Mr. Herring, chief airmail superintendent of the Postoffice Department, was in Winnipeg for a conference with western Canada postal superintendents. The weekly service will be started by a Canadian commercial flying company, United Air Transport of Edmonton, and will connect with the Pan-American route from Whitehorse to Nome, Alaska, on the Pacific Coast.

NOME-SHANGHAI

Imperial Airways are expected to complete the 3,700 mile route from Nome to Shanghai, China, shortest route from North America to the Orient. Because the route through Canada to the Orient is the shortest possible line for an all-British airmail service, Mr. Herring said postal authorities hoped when the scheme is completed it will mean that bulk of Orient-bound mail will go west through Canada. "If Canadian air mail can work up to the stage where its planes can average 1,000 pounds of foreign mail per trip, the costs of operating the trans-Canada service will be easy," Mr. Herring said. Authorities estimated the route from Chicago to Shanghai via Nome is 4,000 miles shorter than the Pan-American clipper route over the Pacific Ocean via Hawaii and Manila. The longest hop of the proposed route would be 1,000 miles over water.

Dawson Quits As Steamship Head

San Francisco, April 22.—The resignation of Kenneth D. Dawson as president of the Pacific-Atlantic Steamship Company was announced here yesterday by Ernest L. McCormick of Williams-Diamond and Company agent. Dawson could not be reached immediately for a statement on his future plans. No successor has yet been named. Meanwhile R. A. Nicol, vice-president, is acting temporarily as the company's general manager.

CHINA AIR SERVICE

Alameda, Cal., April 22 (Associated Press).—Commercial air service to China began yesterday with departure of the China Clipper on a regular trans-Pacific flight. She carried three passengers, a large consignment of first flight covers for stamp collectors and light merchandise. Upon arrival of the China Clipper in Manila, the Hongkong Clipper, a new addition to the trans-Pacific air fleet, will pick up the stamp consignment and other commercial cargo and fly to Macao and Hongkong.

They Thought They Were Europe-bound

Passengers who went aboard the Ss. President Roosevelt at New York the other day thought they were bound for Europe, but here they are shown following baggage-laden stewards back down the gangway, when the liner was tied up by a sit-down strike called in protest against employment of two non-union radio operators and of outlaid engine-room workers. After a night or two at New York hotels the passengers managed to find space on other liners bound for Europe.

Conference Hopes to Settle Dock Trouble

Joseph P. Ryan, Head of I.L.A., and J. B. LaBelle of Montreal Meet at New York

Canadian Press
New York, April 22.—Seeking a solution to the labor dispute born on the Montreal waterfront, the presidents of the International Longshoremen's Association and National Independent Union of Longshoremen met at a conference table here today. J. B. LaBelle, president of the N.I.U.L., entered the office of Joseph P. Ryan, leader of the I.L.A., shortly before noon. As they met, the boycott called by the International Association against steamship lines using longshoremen of the Independent Union at Montreal, was declared effective at New York and a few other points along the Atlantic coast. IN FIGHT WITH C.I.O.

Shortly before the inter-union conference Ryan issued a press statement saying the I.L.A., affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, was engaged in a fight with John L. Lewis's Committee for Industrial Organization. "He did not say that he considered the N.I.U.L. was connected in any way with the C.I.O."

"It is regrettable this incident has occurred," the Ryan statement said, "but our organization is determined to keep itself free from any entanglements with any group that is not in accordance with the policies of the American Federation of Labor. "In line with this programme, we are organizing extensively, not only in every port but in every branch of our jurisdiction, because we find even ship scalars, painters and other small groups that we had not organized in the past, have already been approached by officers of the C.I.O. They have even asked our colored representatives for permission to address their meeting in spite of the fact that we have been representing these colored men for the past twenty-five years."

The world's fastest ship—R.M.S. "Queen Mary"

For fifteen consecutive years, Cunard White Star has carried more passengers than any other line.

The vision and policy of Samuel Cunard of Halifax, the founder, and of successive generations in the Company, have culminated in the "Queen Mary", but the background of these ten decades of progress has been one of individual attention and personal service to passengers.

In the deep draught steady ships which regularly sail from Canada to England, Scotland, Ireland and France this spirit prevails, as elsewhere in our fleet, and the ships' personnel stands ready to serve the traveller just as our offices and agents throughout Canada are organized to assist the enquirer.

Sea Adventure Ends in Jail

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 22.—What officers said they were told was a projected adventure cruise to the South Seas in a small gasboat, ended, temporarily at least, in a police cell yesterday night for the amateur navigator. British Columbia Police arrested the would-be adventurer at Spanish Banks and held him for investigation after learning he carried an automatic pistol and thirty-seven rounds of ammunition. The man told them, police said, he and a companion came here recently from the Prairies and purchased a gasboat for a contemplated South Seas cruise. They left Vancouver harbor Tuesday but when nightfall found them near Spanish Banks they pulled in close to shore and anchored for the night. At low tide yesterday they discovered their craft was high and dry, officers said the man explained. At high tide the vessel swamped and while he stood guard on the beach his companion went for aid in refloating the boat.
